Ashley Refused to Work the Road.

The following affidavit from Mr. Tucker, of Dawson county, explains itself:
STATE OF GEORGIA—Hall County.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, Asa Tucker, who being duly sworn, says: That he was for the year 1902, 1903 and for part of the year 1904 a road overseer in the county of Dawson, State of Georgia; that in and during the year 1902, in the proper discharge of his duty, he personally summoned James M. Ashley, who was at that time living in Dawson County, Georgia, to appear and work the roads; and that he said Ashley refused to obey said summons or pay the taxes, stating that he (Ashley) was not a resident of Dawson county, Georgia.

The deponent, Asa Tucker, as in duty bound, reported the said Ashley to the commissioners of said Dawson County, and heard and knows nothing further from said matter, except that deponent, Asa Tucker, supposes the commissioners sustained said Ashley in his contention that he was, in point of fact, not a resident of the aforesaid Dawson County, as said Ashley was not required by said commissioners to work the roads.

(Signed) A. V. TUCKER,
Sworn to and subscribed before me this September 29, 1904.

"Life is what we are alive to. It is not length, but breath. To be alive only to appetite, pleasure, pride, money-making and not to goodness and kindness, purity and love, history, poetry, music, flowers, stars, God eternal hopes, is to be all but dead."

Even if some things refuse to go your way, there are other things.

Many a man, while walking to save car fare, indulges in a ten cent cigar.

Money does not always lead to happiness, but it helps in the search very materially.

Tom Watson, Republican Idol.

Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for President of the United States, suddenly finds himself the object of most distinguished consideration on the part of all Republican newspapers and orators.

It was only a few years ago that Mr. Watson was defined extensively in Republican dictionaries as a "red-headed lunatic from Georgia," as "an enemy of the national honor," as a "crazy Populist," as a "crank," as a "mountain-bank" and a "blatant demagogue," but the times have changed and the Republicans have changed with them. Mr. Watson now is a very able man, perhaps a great man—not altogether right on a few trifling issues such as currency, the tariff, the regulation of trusts, the initiative and referendum and the like, but withal a man of high character, real convictions and forensic eloquence of the first order.

Every Republican editor is hanging upon Mr. Watson's words and sipping wisdom from them. Every attack made by Mr. Watson on Judge Parker is hailed as the unprejudiced opinion of a great orator and statesman. Mr. Watson's speeches have the right of way in the columns of every Republican newspaper. The Sun was so eager to print his letter of acceptance that it could not wait for the formal release, and made the letter public twenty-four hours in advance of the date agreed upon for publication.

Even some of Mr. Bryan's Democratic friends who sneered at Mr. Watson's candidacy for Vice President in 1896 find that Mr. Watson is a brilliant and judicious man. "The plain people's solitary single-minded friend," such favorable consideration from former opponents must be very gratifying to Mr. Watson. No doubt the cat was greatly encouraged by the monkey's unqualified applause while she was pulling the simian's chestnuts out of the fire.—New York World.

Wisdom's Whispers.

When a woman becomes a gusher there is no telling what foolish things she may say.

Many men are extreme in their generosity so long as the purse is not touched.

It pleases a woman to recall some incident in which she bore a conspicuous part.

Some men are flattered by the thought that others fear them.

A woman's idea of good living is embraced in having others provide it for them.

Men find fault often just to show they have something in the way of ideas.

It takes away a woman's pleasure to remember her most attractive gown is only a hold over.

Even the careful man occasionally will fall into ways which deserve severe censure.

Manie D. Cris, the white woman who suffered such tortures and indignities at the state prison farm last year, and for whose pardon hundreds of people appealed in vain, has nearly finished her two years' sentence, and will be released in a few days.

Everything comes to the man who waits—except his missing hair.

Many a man turns over a new leaf one day and turns it back the next.

Anyway, it's none of a man's business how old a woman is.

A man seldom succeeds until he learns what he can do.

Wealth won by tricks vanishes by magic.

Your mistake may contribute to the wisdom of others.

Did you ever pause to think how many people there are in the world who probably never heard of you?

What Makes the South Solid?

Why is the South still solid? Collier's Weekly, a New York publication, gives this reason: "That the South is solid and that the anti-Republican feeling is stronger than when McKinley died, are conditions easily understood and sympathized with by Northerners who have sufficient imagination to project themselves out of their own environment. No wonder there is but one issue, and no wonder the South cannot vote for the party of reconstruction outrage, force bills, bloody shirts and negro exploitation. Who is going to consider tariff problems when his wife and daughter are in danger? Who is going to put currency and imperialism ahead of the survival of his own race? The Republican party earned glory by freeing the slaves and giving the final answer to a disrupting question. It deserves obloquy for the narrowness, tactlessness and political chicanery with which it has handled the negroes and the Southerners ever since."

This is a Northern, not a Southern criticism.

If your goods won't stand advertising, advertise your business for sale. The goods that are not advertised may be as good as those that are, but nobody knows it. If nobody knew you, you couldn't sell a dollar's worth of goods. If a few people know you, you'll sell a few goods. The more people there are who know you and your goods, the more you will sell. If you can make a person believe your goods are superior, you will find them easier to sell.—Great Falls Leader.

Russia and England will settle their differences without war.

The Japs, after several days rest, have been storming the Russian port again.

Carrie Nation is now in a Kansas jail and will not smash any more bars for awhile.

A few days ago between thirty and sixty men lost their lives in a mine explosion out in Colorado.

Snow fell in Mitchell county, South Carolina, on the 20th, where no rain has fallen since August 1st.

While people who do not wish to vote for a negro next Tuesday should mark that one off of the republican ticket.

W. M. Waldrup's large saw mill near Blairsville, Ga., was burned a few nights ago. Loss about $1,300. No insurance.

At the special term of Rabun Superior court convened to try the lawyer for murder, the case was continued until the next regular term.

The recent grand jury at Statesboro returned no true bills against lynchings. The judge thought they ought but the jury saw it different.

The question is now will Ashley, the great "I am," make all the mail carriers, who don't support him, give up their jobs. No doubt some of them would like to be relieved.

There seems to be a doubt about it being lawful for public schools to commence and teachers receive their salaries before Jan 1905, and in some counties schools will not be commenced before that time.

It is reported that the number of wounded, killed and missing Russians in the fighting which began October 9 and ended October 15, totaled 800 officers and 45,000 men.

Tom Watson, the republican's rubber doll, is making a big noise, but gas doesn't count much in politics. Tom said once that he was out of politics but the republican influence was too strong for him to keep his word.

The state fair judges have made their awards and the county exhibits are as follows: Spaulding first, Bulloch second, Worth third and Dodge fourth. Spaulding gets a check for $1,500 and the others will receive $1,200, $700 and $300.

Near Marietta the other day a drunken negro met two white men in a buggy, one of whom he had a grudge against. He invited the other to get out so he could kill him. They stuck together and sent for officers and had the scoundrel arrested. The northern papers didn't notice this.

We hear of one of Ashley's pets in Dahlonega feeling sore who has been making some slight remarks about the editor of THE NEGRO. Let him stand on his head and get Ashley to rub him with Pimp Moore's Salve till he is relieved of all pain. Then he will get in a good humor.

Our readers must excuse us for devoting a good deal of space to Ashley for the last few issues. He is the smallest thing on record when it comes to politics but all our readers are not aware of this fact and we meant for them to know it. It is true that Ashley has caused some changes in a few post-offices in the ninth and threatens others, but he is backed by south haters, otherwise he would not have been known in Washington City. If Ashley was to go to congress he would do us all the dirty work possible. His actions during the present campaign clearly demonstrates this fact.

There ought to be some arrangements made for our citizens to get the election news next Tuesday night like there was four years ago.

Tom Bell speaks at the court house in Dahlonega tonight. Let everybody come out and hear him tell you something that will be interesting.

A little boy was killed by a parlor rifle in Atlanta the other day, but still some claim that there is no danger in them and purchase them for their children.

Ashley refused to work the roads in Dawson county last year because he said he was not a citizen. This, the overseer swears. See affidavit on first page of this issue.

Through the kindness of the Atlanta Constitution we are permitted to use the cartoon made for it on the first side. It explains the situation better than any one can write it.

A railroad to be called the Gainesville & Rome is now spoken of. If built it will pass through a splendid section and be of great benefit to the county through which it traverses.

Ashley's actions toward Mr. Graham shows that if he was elected he would do nothing for southern men unless they would pledge themselves to support him and the republican party.

Tom Watson speaks in Gainesville next Monday. Watson is a great speaker but he is praised too much by northern republican papers to cause him to take well in the south. There is a "negro in the wood pile" causes this praise.

We are indebted to the Atlanta Constitution for a handsome book of cartoons by Lewis Gregg, who is not 25 years of age, yet his excellent work is of such a nature as to attract the attention of all classes of people, both young and old.

Ashley said that he did not endorse Mrs. Longstreet for postmistress at Gainesville, yet she got it. This shows that there are people besides him that can do something, really more, for he is a very small potato, and partially decayed at this time in our estimation.

If the Democratic voters of Georgia do not rally to the polls on November 8th, to cast ballots for the Democratic electors in sufficient numbers to give these electors a majority of all votes cast, under the laws of Georgia it will become incumbent upon the Governor of Georgia to call an extra session of the General Assembly to declare the electors. Let every democratic voter turn out and save all this trouble and expense.

Under the provisions of the new act, or the amendment, no one can legally sell domestic wines outside of incorporated towns and cities without first obtaining from the Ordinary or Board of County Commissioners a license to do so and paying such tax to these authorities as they see fit to impose. Nor can any one legally sell such wines within the limits of such incorporated cities or towns without first obtaining from the governing municipal authorities license so to do and paying to them such tax as they may impose. Those who have been selling wine on the sly about Dahlonega had better quit it, otherwise they will get into trouble.

The season for hunting partridges, quail, and wild turkey opened last Tuesday. The open season for deer is from September to January. No person is permitted to kill more than forty doves in one day. No one can kill any game for the purpose of selling it, except on his own land, unless, of course, he obtains explicit permission to hunt on the lands of others. "Pout hunters," as those who kill game for the market are generally known, must pay a license fee of $25 to the ordinary of the county before they can do business. It is strictly against the law to ship any partridge or quail out of the state, no matter where or whom they are killed.

The Georgia State Fair closed at Macon last Saturday night and was a grand success. Nearly one hundred thousand people attended it.

Bro. Thomas, who had the misfortune of losing his press by fire at Dawsonville some time ago, has purchased another outfit and the Advertiser will soon be on foot again.

The Athens dispensary was the direct cause of 50 drunk and lock-ups and several fights last Friday. That is liberty to the limit and prosperity in all its fullness. From such deliver us, remarks the Commerce News.

We see from the Blue Ridge Post that at the request of "the great I am," Ashley, John Powell, democrat, has been removed from the Morganton post-office and James Withrow appointed in his stead. Ashley has used about the extent of his influence and will soon be a thing of the past—like a tramp passing through.

Next Tuesday when you go to cast your ballot in the congressional race think how mean Ashley has acted, by threatening to throw Miss Graham out of the Two Run post-office who is an invalid and a strict member of the Baptist church, simply because her brother will not prove untrue to his party and support him in preference to Tom Bell.

The Atlanta Beavers' jubilee will take place in that city on the 7th to 12, inclusive and a big time is expected. The Beavers have arranged to have fifteen big shows to furnish amusement for out-of-town visitors. One feature will be the big trained and performing lions, tigers, panthers, hyenas, bears, jaguars and leopards, including elephants and camels. Besides the 12 great acts presented in the Grecian Stadium, and many other things of interest. Having received an invitation to accept the courtesies extended the press we may make it convenient to visit the Gate City next week.

Mr. Ashley, the republican candidate for congress, spoke here yesterday. His speech was tame and lifeless. Demosthenes himself could not have made a great speech to 15 or 20 men, and certainly if he could not Mr. Ashley cannot. From what he said it is evident that he has no hope of being elected. He said that a yellow dog could be elected in Georgia on the democratic ticket. Mr. Bell is not a yellow dog by any means but he will get there just the same. After the election is over Mr. Ashley will have ample time to determine definitely as to where he resides and get in shape to pay his taxes.—Commerce News.

At Commerce, Ga., the other day Ashley said that "a yellow dog could be elected in Georgia on the democratic ticket." This shows mighty poor judgment on the part of this hungry office seeker. He tries to make it appear that he does not want the negro to vote for him, and there is not enough white republicans to put him in. Yet he expects the "sore headed" democrats to give him their support. We will here express our opinion, and it is this: It is a very sorry democrat who will support this bitter republican, and one who does it should never be allowed to claim any connection with the democratic party hereafter.

We have received notice from Mr. Hewitt that he has not been removed from the Cumming post-office, as was stated. At the same time it was reported from Gainesville that Ashley had just had Col. Farrow removed from the Gainesville post-office it was said he caused Mr. Hewitt's removal also. We took it for granted as being true on account of not being contradicted. But we guess that Ashley was like the little busy bee and lost his stinger when striking Col. Farrow and flew back to Gainesville perfectly harmless, has nothing now to fight with and will soon (politically) pine away and die.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

Mr. Ashley told the road overseer in Dawson, before the election, that he was not a citizen of that county. Then after he announced himself a candidate for congress says that he has been a citizen of Georgia for five years. A man who makes such false statements as these will not do to send to congress, and the people have no notion of it.

Bro. Rucker, of the Alpharetta Free Press asks the question: "Where are Ashley's votes to come from? The democrats and former populists are for Bell. Ashley is a negro hater, and of course Sambo is not going to vote for him, even if he is a republican. There are not four thousand white republicans in the ninth district. Where does Ashley expect to get enough votes to elect him to congress?"

Although Ashley is a republican he says he is going to vote for Tom Watson, the populist candidate for president. He knows there is no chance for Watson and is only doing this to try and coax the populist voters to cast ballots for him. Ashley is hurting for office and is willing to do anything to get one, but the people of the 9th district are not going to be coaxed into his political web. If he is as popular as represented let him go back home and ask for office.

Our attention has been called to the law in reference to the use of books in the public schools of the state—particularly the arithmetics. The law says that Bason's Intermediate shall be used in the second, third, and fourth grades; Wentworth's Practical in the fifth, sixth and seventh; and Mile's Standard in the eighth and all grades above 8th. Teachers violating these regulations cannot receive public money. All exchanges of books must be accomplished prior to December 31, 1904.—Cobb County Courier.

In an article in last Sunday's Constitution Col. Farrow, in an interview with one of its reporters, denounced Ashley in the most bitter terms and has made it so hot for the carpetbagger that he couldn't sit down in congress even if he was elected. The Colonel says that he is going to support Tom Bell. Instead of getting the nearest inspector to Gainesville, the department, at the suggestion of Ashley no doubt, sent away up to the state of Ohio in which the carpetbagger lived and got a man who would fix things to suit Ashley exactly. Col. Farrow has asked for a bill of charges but none have been given him so far.

Go out to the polls next Tuesday, vote for a resident of your district for congress and lay the "transient" candidate in the shade.

It is asserted that one of the recent members of the Bulloch county grand jury, was a leader of the mob which burned the negroes at a stake.

There are nine presidential tickets this time, and two of the candidates are negroes. Some of you republicans have voted for negro delegates and electors which has encouraged these negroes to run for a high office.

Up at Toccoa, Ga., last Sunday Mr. Brewer Stark appeared at the residence of the father of Miss Nora Patton, with preacher and license to wed Miss Nora. While the would be groom was in waiting with his friends for the young lady, she climbed out at a back window and joined Mr. Robert Grogan, another lover, and in a short time the two were married.

We have no dislike for a man because he is a republican, provided he means to do right, but the kind that try to undermine people and do all kinds of dirty work for the sake of an office, we have no use for them.

We hear of one man in Lumpkin county who is going to vote for Parker and Davis for president, and Ashley for congress, because the latter is from Ohio, not with the expectation of his being elected but hoping that he will get a large enough vote to be seated by a republican congress if it goes that way. Just think of a man coming down here and settling among us, who is enjoying our hospitality and friendship and is willing to help do a thing that will lend encouragement to the people of the 9th may be cheated and swindled out of their just rights. This shows the hatred some people have towards the Southerners and proves what they would do to injure us if they only had the opportunity.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia. They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

It is alarming to note the course of the president in appointing negroes to office in the south even on the eve of the national election. He does not even slow up until after the election. Only a few days ago he appointed a negro to a post-office in South Carolina, notwithstanding the fact, there were good white men applying for the position. If he will do this on the eve of the election what need the people of the South expect if he is elected? How can any white man in the South, Democrat, Republican, Populist or what not cast a ballot on Nov. 8 that will endorse such a policy.—Blue Ridge World.

In his speech at Rushville, Ind., Bryan said: "You may never hear of the president appointing a negro postmaster in the North, but in the South, where the elevation of the black man above his white brother is particularly distasteful, there is where the colored appointments are made. Isn't it strange, my friends, that the Republican party that came into being through its advocacy of the declaration of freedom in our constitution and that declared that no black men should be sold, is now the party that has crossed 7,000 miles of the sea, to rob a brown race of its liberty; that has purchased these people for something like $2.50 a head."

Local News.

Send as your job work if you wish it done nice.

Our farmers are in a prosperous condition and have a right to rejoice.

Dr. Castleberry, of Murrayville, was in Dahloona last Tuesday on business.

We learn that Col. Farrow passed on up to Porter Springs this week where he will remain a few days.

The Bracket brothers, of White county, will sing at the Dahloona Baptist church next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend.

We are told that blockade liquor has advanced from $1 to $1.50 per gallon right at the furnace. Liquor is like cotton, it will always sell and bring the money.

When Mr. Evans takes charge of the ordinary's office there will be a new County Administrator appointed. We understand that it will be a democrat this time.

Messrs. G. H. and G. McGuire visited their old home place in Dawson county to see their mother last Saturday, and Mrs. G. McGuire went out into Pickens county to see her mother.

Parties getting their Nueces after that post-offices than Dahloona can see when their subscription expires by referring to the printed date on their wrapper or margin of their paper.

We have had three crops of raspberries on the same briars in our garden. If it was a republican garden some would doubtless try to give Mr. Ashley credit for it, but as it is, they can't.

The cutting off of the electric lights by the Consolidated Co. at 12 o'clock to four is good encouragement for thieves to get in their work during the several hours of darkness. If this continues our city will have to make some other arrangements.

We learn by a letter that the little Ricketts boy who left Dahloona some time ago and got into trouble in Whitfield county, has been tried and convicted recently and his fine was paid by Mr. Fred Wilson of Dalton, for whom the boy is now working.

It is a very rare thing to see any cotton in Dahloona but now that some of the farmers above town and nearer the mountains have got to raising this staple article it won't seem so strange hereafter. Preacher West passed here on his way to the gin with a load last Tuesday, being the first cotton that has been in Dahloona for many years.

Last Tuesday the sheriff sold the Adams property heretofore advertised, to John Justice for $112. The claim against Bill Stover was settled. County Administrator Ben Anderson disposed of a Miram Ducklet lot to Henry Ducklet for $10, and other Ducklet lots to John Sargent for $91. The Fraley property was bid off by Frank Jones for the United States Leather Co.

There is a gentleman in Dahloona having a sister who has not spoken to him in 15 years and wouldn't even write to him. On last Tuesday he received by mail a gift of a check from this sister for one hundred dollars, causing joy and happiness to this old man in his declining years that can better be imagined than explained. Next morning he had a letter of thanks written and mailed by daylight.

Judge Hoff informs us that there will be no farm purchased for the paupers of Lumpkin county this year, and the committee which was to have met on the 10th for this purpose will not do so now. Solicitor General Charters has looked up the law on the subject and finds that the ordinary, after the taxes are already levied, cannot make a debt for the coming year of this kind and perform a work that is incumbent upon the ordinary.

Mr. M. J. Williams returned home from Atlanta yesterday.

Miss Mattie Huff, of Half Way, paid her father here a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Huff left yesterday for a short visit to friends down in Jackson county.

Although it has not rained any here in a long time last week the water rose and run in branches that have been dry for months. Can any one explain it?

Cols. Charters and Baker and likely others, speak of going to Atlanta after they vote so as to be there that night when the election returns begin to come in.

After the ball game was over last Saturday several ladies and gentlemen took a ride across the square on the horseless carriage—a wagon pulled by a "gentleman cow."

Some of the credit given to Ashley because several blockaders of this county were released from custody, should be divided with U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle, for it is said that he expects to apply for the Dahloona post-office if Teddy is elected, and wishes to do something that will help Ashley in order to get his endorsement.

The blockaders, who were allowed to come back and vote, must not give Mr. Ashley any credit, for it is not due him. They must remember that Judge Newman is a democrat, who told them to go home and "vote right." Yet some are silly enough to think Ashley caused it. This man is too rank a republican to have any influence with as sound a democrat as Judge Newman.

Mr. Jim Tate spent several days in Jackson county this week. Jim has several relatives and two or three sweethearts down there causing it to be a very pleasant trip for him. He is assistant postmaster at Dahloona but we are unable to say whether he applied to Ashley first for a leave of absence or not, though we guess not, for Ashley lost his stinger in Farrow and is as useless and harmless a drone now.

Last Sunday Tax Collector Walden of Lumpkin county, received notice from Comptroller General Wright that Messrs. M. J. and E. M. Williams had asked to be relieved as sureties on his bond and that he must make a new one. Mr. Walden came to town on Monday and soon complied with the request. This is a bond for 1908 and 4. His new state bond for 1905 and 6 had just been made. There was no trouble with Mr. Walden with either state or county. Before those two men signed his bond a couple of years ago we understood that the collector was to give Jap Williams or some one suggested by them $75 to make out the receipts and help collect the taxes. Last year Mr. Walden did this but this year he made cheaper arrangements, explains the unexpected trouble.

On last Monday some parties passed through Dahloona on their return to Union with the team of Mr. Henry Grizzle who was killed by a train at Norcross on Wednesday last week. Mr. Grizzle had gone down with a load of produce and left a young man in charge of his team while he did some trading. The driver saw the train coming and crossed the track safely when the mules tried to run. The owner saw this and thought he could run across all right and help with the team. He cleared the track all right but the corner of the train struck his body and knocked him about thirty feet away where he breathed his last. His remains were sent around by Atlanta and to Blue Ridge, the nearest point to his home in Union county. From there, his friends took charge of the corpse and carried it home for interment. Mr. Grizzle has a number of relatives and friends in Lumpkin who regret his sad departure. He was 39 years of age and leaves a wife and four little children and a host of other people to mourn his loss.

Several more of our citizens wells have gone dry during the past few days.

The Nueces office is the place to get nice visiting cards neatly printed cheap.

We notice that one of our citizens is having hay hauled from Gainesville to feed on.

Our farmers are busy now gathering their corn, and the crops seem to be satisfactory.

Mrs. Strickland has a lot of bargains in trimmed hats, price 25, 50, 75 cents and $1.00. Also a nice line of skirts and jackets.

The Dahloona Portrait Co. is prepared to do all kinds of photographic work in first-class style. Mining and other views a specialty.

While at work tearing down the old J. F. Moore building on the public square last week, Mr. Bev. Brooksher picked up a one cent corn dated 1818.

The board of trustees of the N. G. A. College met last week and appropriated $900 more to be used on the farm. This will enable Prof. Davis to get it in good shape.

It was reported last week that Mr. Ed. Corn got both of his legs broke. We are glad to state that it was only one. The other was bruised considerably but not broken.

Farmers are only receiving $1.50 per bushel for white beans here now. Colored or mixed $1.25. Good fodder has been bringing $1.75 per hundred, and scarce at that.

A few days ago while a son of Mr. Henson Chapman was driving a team attached to a wagon through the woods a bending bush held down by the wagon flew up and struck him in the face, making some very painful bruises.

A fellow who never subscribed for a home paper in his life, wrote to us the other day for a Nueces without enclosing even as much as a one cent stamp, containing the grand jury presentments. Did he get it? No, nor won't the next time.

On Saturday last the Dahloona foot ball team played against the Ball Ground team and defeated it by 50 to 0. The best of order prevailed, every thing passing off nice and pleasant. The names of those in the Ball Ground team are: Dan Harrison, W. A. White, Robert Wheeler, C. Fitts, Alf Halcomb, J. H. Garrett, J. W. Garrett, Arthur Howard, Ed Jones, Howell Hentz and M. Sage.

Remember that W. P. Price, Jr., keeps a supply of all kinds of crackers, besides a nice variety of that 20 cents per pound fancy candy. Not only this but everything that is kept by a general mercantile establishment. Another new supply of this fancy candy, and a nice lot of Lowmy's box candy has just arrived. Boys who wish to make a nice present to some young lady should make a note of this.

The information we received last week from members of the church, causing us to say that no movement had been made by the churches to get any money for the man who lost his house by fire recently, must have been lay members—those who remain away from church—and only guess at things, as Prof. Vickery informs us that the Baptist church appointed a committee for the purpose of receiving funds for this man and several dollars were raised.

Every business man should advertise in his home paper and help to keep it up. At times you may not see its benefits but it will help you in some way, either directly or indirectly, but you will never realize it until you go to a place where there is no paper published, or one gets destroyed. Since the destruction of Bro. Thomas' plant at Dawsonville the people down there already feel its effects. To see what property the sheriff has to sell, a person living away miles in the country, has to go and inspect the bulletin board at the court house.

Corn sold here from the wagons last week at 55 cents per bushel cash and 65 in trade.

As fancy candy as was ever brought to Dahloona, will be found at H. D. Gurleys at 20 cents per pound.

SHINGLES.—When you need shingles of any kind write Hutchinson Bros., Frieda, Ga. They will save you money.

Wagoners passing back through Dahloona last week from below stated that they only got 40 cents per bushel for apples.

Mrs. Finch, after spending some time here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn, left last Friday for her home in New Orleans.

We are informed if Teddy is elected president, U. S. Deputy Marshal Dennis Grizzle will be an applicant for the Dahloona post-office.

Our merchants only paid from 15 to 17 cents per dozen cash for eggs this week, while chickens brought a very high price for this market.

The college boys here have a challenge from a ball team at Port McPherson which will be accepted and the game will take place there later on.

Mr. R. C. Meaders has put up a number of lightning arrestors on the Dahloona & Dawsonville telephone line within the past few days, to protect the posts.

We notice that the jeweler, Mr. McGuire, is kept pretty busy repairing old fiddles. The owners are getting them in tune for the corn shucking and the holiday season.

There is no use going to Gainesville with your produce any longer. Mr. Tregent will buy it from you here and pay the cash, and this saves a long drive and loss of time.

On the third Saturday in next month there will be three aldermen to elect in Dahloona, one from each ward, and it is about time that our citizens were looking up some "timber."

Our county officers have been busy during the past few days making their bonds. Mr. Jarrard, who was elected surveyor, and Sheriff Davis, were the first ones to comply with the law. Tax Collector Valben next.

Last Friday, while a number of ladies were walking about for exercise, an old country woman sat in a wagon and knit nearly a sock foot while minding the team during the drivers absence on business.

As stated some time ago, that several of our farmers were experimenting by planting cotton in Davis' district this year, where but little of it was ever grown, and we are glad to say that it has turned out well and much more will be planted next year.

D. O. Johnson proposes to sell shoes cheaper than any one else in town, and all other goods as low as can be had here, and pays the highest market price for country produce. Shoes from 25 to 50 cents cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere in Dahloona. If Preacher Jonathan Gilreath, of Union county, passed through Dahloona the other day, and stated that a few days previous he swore out a warrant against Mr. Al. Ingram for what he published in The Nueces about him a few weeks ago, and caused the old man to give a bond for libel.

The lower half of the J. P. Moore building just torn down is another old land mark in Dahloona gone. It was built in 1846 or 7 and was once connected with Hall's Villa, then owned by Harrison W. Riley, by a bridge constructed across the street. Riley used to have a band and the musicians would walk back and forth across the bridge and in the porches of these two buildings and play for his many guests and the citizens generally. Dahloona was full of all kinds of people then and presented a city like appearance.

Good fodder is still worth $1.75 per hundred in Dahloona cash up and no grumbling.

For Sale Cheap, by B. R. Meaders & Sons, 1 survey, 1 hack, 2 two-horse wagons and several sets of harness.

Mr. Frank Moose and his family passed through here this week moving from White county to Pickens.

It commenced raining yesterday afternoon lightly and continued nearly all night and is raining as we go to press.

Mr. Breymann, of Toledo, Ohio, also Ashley's home, said this week that he was surprised at him coming here and running for congress.

Sheriff Davis received his requisition papers for Alvina Coffee in Tennessee on Wednesday but a phone message stated that he had been released from prison.

Last Wednesday some of the boys at Hall's Villa went up into the garret to get a rat trap and to their surprise found that all the front of the parlor chimney had fallen out leaving a hole 4x5 feet. When it occurred no one knows but fortunately the house had not caught yet some of the ceiling was black with smoke.

Mining Notes.

Dock Erwin is taking out some good looking ore a short distance of Dahloona.

Charlie McAfee and his partners are still engaged in mining down on the Boyd lot, meeting with encouragement.

The McDonalds have been able to do a small amount of work at the Lockhart mine all through the drouth. There is plenty of good milling ore already in sight to run on for a long time.

Since the suspension of Crown Mountain mine it has given a continuous flow of water below the dam, though small, which enabled the Ingersoll & Crisson boat to resume work after a delay of many weeks.

Mr. Campbell has been able to keep things moving along at the Singleton mine as usual and the results are very satisfactory. Big money may be expected to be made at the Singleton as soon as the mill can be run regularly.

Work still continues up at the Jumbo mine. While here last week the U. S. Geologist visited this mine, took up the pan and did the panning himself and although it is not common for men in his position to make any remarks either for or against a mine until making his report, the Jumbo showed up so well that he couldn't help it right there on the spot in the presence of all.

We understand that Mr. Harry Tregent will operate the dredge boat for the Briar Patch Company. Something was said last week about them being unable to run the boat until the drouth breaks but we are informed that by the construction of brush dams below the work can go right ahead. This is the way the Ingersoll & Crisson dredge is operated. The Briar Patch boat was intended to be started yesterday. It is a splendid piece of workmanship, like all others built by Mr. Wm. Ricketts, the contractor.—The work on the canal is moving along all right. Mr. Fry has a number of men cutting collateral ditches to run the water into the tubing until the main canal is finished and the water is turned on at the head.

The Hand still continues to improve. The time before the last the clean up was good, but last weeks was still better. The management is good and all that is needed now is plenty of water. On Monday night after getting the small air compressor ready they started one drill but in less than an hour the water in the reservoir was so low and the power so weak that they stopped the drill until after midnight when the town lights were cut off and the drill again started and run till 3:30 o'clock. Nothing standing, that short run they cut more rock than is done in two days by hand drilling. When making money now very great would be the results if it would rain so the mill could be run regularly both day and night. An air drill will be put into operation both at the Singleton and Lockhart as soon as the Hand can furnish sufficient power. Preparations are also being made to strip the Antonia vein as soon as the flow of water is sufficient to wash the top off. People at a distant cannot realize the many disadvantages our miners are laboring under during the long protracted drouth, the severest known in this country for many years, and there is but little appearance of rain yet.

Later.—Some rain at last causing joy among the miners.

Georgia, Lumpkin County.
To the Superior Court of said county.
The petition of the Georgia Electric Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of said State, and existing as such by virtue of a charter granted by said Court, in and to the Court on the 27th day of April, 1901, shows to the Court the following facts, to-wit:

That said corporation desires to amend its charter and to change the office and principal place of doing and transacting business of said corporation from Dahloona, in Lumpkin County, Georgia, to Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia, so that its principal place of doing business and its main office will after the grant of this charter be in Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia.

Said corporation, however, desires the power and right to have branch offices and such other place, or places, of transacting business as set forth in its charter and as herein set forth and at such place or places as it may from time to time deem desirable.

Said corporation desires that its powers, rights and privileges be enlarged so as to authorize it to make contracts for the construction of hotels, buildings, dwelling houses, sanitariums, and such other public or private works and improvements as it may from time to time desire to engage in, said Company especially desires the privilege and authority to purchase stock and bonds of other corporations, or other securities in payment for such contracts for building or construction or otherwise, and to acquire, control, or sell any or all of said stock, bonds or other securities or other of them.

Said corporation desires to have such other and further powers as may be consistent with its charter, or as may be authorized by the laws of the State of Georgia.

Wherefore, petitioner prays that this amendment be allowed and said additional powers be granted and the same made a part of said original charter.

And petitioner will ever pray, etc.
H. H. DEAN,
Attorney for Petitioner,
Filed in office October 22, 1904.
JOHN H. MOORE, C. S. C.,
Clerk of the Superior Court.
I, John H. Moore, clerk of the Superior Court, in and for said County, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the application for amendment to charter of the Georgia Electric Company, as the same appears of file in my office.
Given under my hand and the seal of said court, this 24th day of October, 1904.
JOHN H. MOORE, C. S. C.,
Lumpkin County, Ga.

Some New Commandments

1. Thou shalt not go away from home to do thy trading, nor thy son nor thy daughter.
2. Thou shalt do whatever lieth in thy power to encourage and promote the welfare of thine own town and thine own people.
3. Thou shalt spend thine earnings at home, that they may return from whence they came and give nourishment to such as may come after thee.
4. Thou shalt patronize thy home merchants and thy home printer: for yea, verily, doth not thy home printer spread over the land tidings of thy goodness and greatness that the people shall patronize thee.
5. Thou shalt not ask a printer to take less than his price. Remember, that by asking him to retreat from his price thou interest that he is a robber. If he hath no dignity thou wilt get done by him somehow.
6. Thou shalt not ask credit, as goods cost much money, and the merchant's brain is burdened with bills. His children clamor daily bread, and his wife abideth at home for lack of such raiment as adorneth her sister. Blessed—yes, thrice blessed—is the man that pays cash.
7. Thou shalt not suffer the voice of pride to overcome thee, consent thou not; thou mayest be deceived. Remember the fate of the calf that left its mother and lost its supper.
8. Thou shalt not ask for reduced prices for thine "influence," for guile is in thy heart and the merchant readeth thee like an open book. He laugheth thee to scorn and shouteth to his clerk, "Hal ha!"
9. Thou shalt not ask thy printer to take two dollars for a three dollar job, because some other poor printer will do it for less money. The other printer may steal his stock and underpay his help. If thou trade with such as he, thou art an accessory to his crime.
10. Thou shalt not bear false witness against the town wherein thou dwellest, but speak well of it to men that thy home town and its home people may be proud of thee.—Exchange.

An exchange remarks that some who are married and settled down would have done the world more good had they remained single and settled up.

How Best to Make a Town.

In an article recently on town building, a Western paper gives this bit of advice, which might, with advantage, be applied to Dahlonega. "If you want your town to grow and prosper, wake up, rub your eyes, roll up your sleeves and go to work for it. It takes a great deal of hustling to stir up some communities in this work, but once the town betterment movement is under way almost every one will join it. If you want business to come to your town, encourage those who come. If you want a prosperous town where people can come, who are disposed to make homes, then do away with, and bury from sight, all jealousy and spite and work more for common prosperity and mutual benefit. Wake up, rub your eyes, roll up your sleeves and go to work. Do not work with fear and trembling, but take for granted that blood will tell. Leave results to themselves, borrow no troubles, but all unite to make it the biggest kind of a town. Go to work!"

The South's Obligation to the Negro.

The negro is here. He is a man and a citizen. He is useful and valuable in his sphere. Within that sphere he must be guaranteed the equal protection of the law, and his education, along proper lines—mainly agricultural and industrial—is at once a duty and a necessity.

No approach toward social equality or social recognition will ever be tolerated in Louisiana. Separate schools, separate churches, separate cars, separate places of entertainment will be enforced. Racial distinction and integrity must be preserved. But there is room enough in this broad southland, with proper lines of limitation and demarcation, for the two races to live on terms of mutual trust, mutual help, good understanding and concord.—Governor Blanchard of Louisiana.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

Earthly Immortality.

Did you ever stop to think what degree of greatness constitutes earthly immortality? Our mind was directed in that channel of thought while reading an interview recently had with a member of the British Parliament, now visiting in America. "The one object that has most impressed me during my tour of the United States is the Washington Monument," said he. "Never in any land have I seen a memorial the like of this. Its grandeur and statelyness fully symbolize the illustrious man of whom all nations have heard. What especially aroused my admiration is that not a single letter has been carved upon it, not a character to tell for whom it stands. It needs none; but uplifted there on the banks of the Potomac through the centuries, it speaks to all mankind of one whose fame can never be obscured."

We are proud of our achievements. Of our advanced agricultural situation, of our manufacturing institutions, of our natural scenery, not surpassed happiness which pervades this country. But none of those things have spoken to our British friend so loudly as this silent monitor commemorating the "Father of this Country."

Think of it, a man so great that a shaft rock, erected by his fellow-man, high enough to pierce the clouds, and bearing no words indicating a name or achievement, should suggest the man through all time. Washington's glory is secure for the ages to come. His memory needed no pile of indestructible stone to remind the world of his greatness. But the memorial stands there on the banks of the Potomac that he who looks upon it may be inspired, to love of country and an emulation of Washington is patriotism. The shaft is bare but the inscription is written on every liberty loving heart.

Washington was a farmer and went from his farm to assume honors bestowed by his fellow countrymen, but when wearied with public life the great man sought again retirement in the quiet or rural retreat where his great soul could be in touch with the glory of nature.—American Farmer.

The State School Commissioner has issued a circular letter calling attention to the fact that the pupils in the public schools cannot get their old books exchanged for the adopted new books later than December 31, 1904.

A Suggestion to the Girl who Must Educate Herself.

Boys have many ways of earning money for their education, but with girls it is more difficult. A writer in the Designer for November tells this story of how a Western girl made the money to give her a good education. The old proverb, "Where there's a will, there's a way," still holds true: "We had in our Western town a little girl whose ambition was to find some way of making money, so that she might earn her own living, and also help her parents. When she was about ten years of age, she began selling books and toilet articles during vacation; in this way she would earn enough to furnish her books and clothes for the next school year. When about twelve years old she left her home and went to a nearby city, where she secured a place as nurse for some little children, returning in the fall ready for school, and with a neat little sum of money all her own. The next summer she secured a place with more wages where she stayed over a year, but came home the following summer in time to enter school. She then remained in school until she thought she had sufficient education to enter a business college, which she did, and after completing that was able to pay her tuition up in full at the close of her course. While going to the business college she worked, mornings and evenings, in a real estate office to earn enough to pay her board. She is now holding a responsible place as stenographer with a large firm in the city. She is a refined, Christian young girl, loved and admired by all who know her.

How Stephens Would Have Eaten Them.

Few men possessed more tact and wit when on the hustings than did Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia, says the Nashville Banner. Though small in size, he had a wonderfully prolific brain and was regarded as an exceptionally brilliant orator. A Georgian tells this story:

"Mr. Stephens was slated for a joint debate with Rance Wright during a presidential campaign Wright, by way of a tale, said that Stephens had said he could eat himself (Wright) for breakfast, Ben Hill for dinner, and Bob Toombs for supper.

"Mr. Stephens possessed very little storage room in his stomach, and when it came to his turn to reply he said that he denied that he had made any such assertion. 'If I had contemplated any such feast,' said Mr. Stephens, 'I certainly would have changed the order. I would have taken Ben Hill for breakfast, Bob Toombs for dinner, and my friend Rance Wright for supper. My mother taught me from earliest infancy to eat a light supper, and so I would have tipped off with Wright.'

"The answer completely snuffed out the good impression Col. Wright had made."

Declaring that the cotton crop is a record-breaker and that times in the South are looking mighty good, the Birmingham News says: "The Southern banks are full of money, and the Southern railroads are earning good dividends. The Southern cotton mills are better off than those of the North, and the Southern farmers are free of debt, with a large cotton crop at good prices. No part of the country is so well off today as the South."

Make a Friend of Your Wife.

If a man has a good wife he has the best friend—it is possible to have. "A man's best friend," says Bulwer Lytton, "is a wife of good sense and good heart, whom he loves and who loves him." In woman there is at once a subtle delicacy of tact, and a plain soundness of judgment, which are rarely combined to an equal degree in a man. A woman, if she be really your friend, will have a sensitive regard for your character, honor, and reputation. She will seldom counsel you to do a shabby thing, for a woman always desires to be proud of you. At the same time her constitutional timidity makes her more cautious than your male friend. She, therefore, seldom counsels you to do an imprudent deed. A wife best shows her friendliness by clipping off from her husband's moral nature little twigs that are growing in the wrong direction. If he says anything silly she will affectionately tell him so. If he declares that he will do something absurd, she will find means to prevent his doing so. Buried at the Town's Expense.

A town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the road to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man who will cuss his town furnishes the coffin. The one who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to the city affairs is making the shroud. The merchant who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is pulling back from public enterprises is throwing bouquets on the grave. A man who is so stingy and selfish as to be always howling hard times preaches the funeral and sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried free from sorrow and care.—Ex.

It is said that there are 40,000 men in New York City idle and hungry and wanting work. At the same time a woman, writing from Stamford, Conn., says that her apples are rotting on the ground because she can't get anybody to pick them up, that she has corn to cut, potatoes to dig and wood to cut, but she cannot get help anywhere in her vicinity. She further says that all the farmers in her part of the state are in need of help. Evidently state employment bureaus are needed to bring together these two extremes.—Ex.

In some parts of the State the teachers are not observing the law as to the use of the books adopted some months ago by the State school book commission. In some sections the books of one publisher or have been substituted for the books of another publisher. The substitution of a book is contrary to law and the teachers guilty will be punished by being required to forfeit all the public money coming to the school. Likewise counties which allow the substitution of books will forfeit all money coming to that county from the State.—Marietta Journal.

The government is now equipping its custom houses and revenue cutters on the Pacific coast with wireless telegraphy outfits. It is said that smugglers have been very expert in landing Chinese, in violation of the exclusion act, also in landing oriental goods in the small harbors and inlets along the Pacific coast. By means of the wireless telegraph, as soon as smugglers are detected their presence is made known to every custom house on the Pacific coast.

Beautiful Homes.

We not only wish to make our own yard and home beautiful, but we desire that our neighbor shall do likewise. To this end there is no better idea than to form an improvement association in the neighborhood. Many of our neighbors who have taken no interest in planting trees and vines and otherwise making their homes beautiful will join such an association and become enthusiastic members. Prizes should be offered by the association for the best kept yard, for the best grown vines and small fruits, for children's gardens, flower beds, etc. In many localities, the people need to be aroused, and the result of work of this kind will show marked improvement, not only outwardly, but also in the character. One energetic man or woman, who will take the initiative in an association of this kind, will find his efforts well rewarded.—American Farm.

The United States government is now laying a cable from Seattle to various points on the coast of Alaska. Sitka and other important points will be connected as far as the military stations on Behring Sea at the mouth of the Yukon. The cable will be over 1800 miles in length.

A Girl's Composition.

A little girl wrote the following essay on "Boys": "Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be ladies by-and-by. When God looked at Adam he said to himself: 'Well, I think I can do better if I try again,' and he made Eve. Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything but soap. If I had my way the world would be girls and the rest dolls. My papa is so nice that he must have been a girl when he was a little boy. Man was made on the seventh day, and he rested. Woman was then made, and she has never rested since."—Ex.

A well known suburbanite, who had been greatly troubled by the depredations of a neighbor's goat, was driven to desperation one day when he learned that the goat had consumed a favorite red flannel shirt of his. Determined on the goat's destruction, he hired an unscrupulous small boy, who lived in the neighborhood, to tie him to the railroad track just before the daily express was due. Some days afterwards a friend inquired if the goat had been effectually disposed of. "Not on your life," was the disgusted answer; "that rascal has a charmed life. He coughed up that red shirt of mine and flagged the train."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 11, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The strike in Illinois last week caused coal to advance 35 cents per ton.

The Baptists, of Dublin, are speaking of building a $20,000 church.

The cotton planters of Georgia have certainly had nice weather to gather their cotton.

County Policeman Wright, of Atlanta, who was dismissed from the force some time ago, has been reinstated.

Charles A. Manston, of Atlanta, charged with counterfeiting, was acquitted last week, after an investigation of several days.

Mrs. Longstreet has made no changes in the Gainesville post-office, which may cause some of Ashley's supporters to faint.

It turns out that Charles Tulto, white, who recently died in Savannah, willed $30,000 to a negro child. His three sisters were not provided for.

At the recent session of the Grand Lodge of Masons at Macon last week, a resolution was adopted prohibiting all Masons from selling liquor.

In a restaurant at Nashville, Tenn., last week a white lady shot at a negro three times because he insulted her and said that negroes were as good as white people.

A negro named Hafford was jailed down at Americus the other day upon the charge of goldbricking numerous negroes, representing himself to be an agent for a furniture house and selling furniture on installment plan. A small cash payment was the only requisite.

A bumper apple crop is the report from all districts from the valleys of Colorado to the green-gird orchards of Maine. There are literally apples everywhere, and they are sound and rosy and big and juicy, and the 1904 crop is estimated at 70,000,000 barrels, or nearly enough for a barrel each for every person in the United States.

The Constitution says new uniforms will be purchased by the state for the Georgia state troops in January. Instead of the blue and khaki, it is the intention of the state to buy the olive drab uniform for the men. They have been found to be very serviceable in every respect and besides they look so much better than the blue and the khaki.

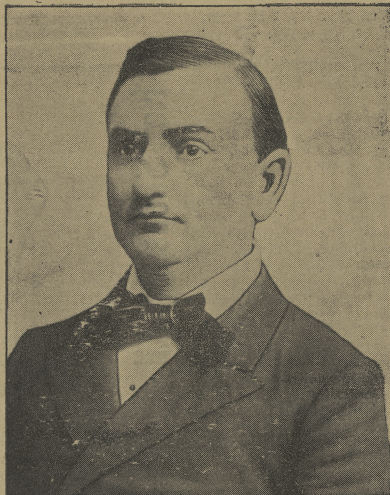

The State School Commissioner has instructed the County School Commissioners of Georgia, that it will be unlawful for the Board of Education to approve any accounts for teaching done in the public schools in this year to be paid out of next year's funds, and the Governor has stated that he would not approve any warrants for such teaching.

James P. Harrison, part owner and general manager of the Atlanta Marble Company and the Herndon quarries, formerly a prominent citizen of Atlanta, and A. C. Gaddis, superintendent of the company's railroad, were instantly killed Friday afternoon in a railroad accident which occurred three and one-half miles from Ball Ground, Ga., on the branch line of the A. K. and N.

Last Tuesday night in Atlanta, the Constitution displayed the election returns on the Silver Wall, besides Edison's moving pictures to a vast crowd of anxious people, and at the same time the Journal gave the people who stayed at home, the result by sending up illuminated balloons. These great rallies show much vim and energy when it comes to occasions like this, so as to accustom the people and please the people.

Tired Nervous

When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nerve, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

My wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself being exceedingly nervous when the least excited. She was very restless at night, and never had a good night's rest. She also suffered much from nervous headaches. Dr. Miles' Nerve was recommended by a friend. After the first three doses had good night's rest, and at the end of the first week's treatment, she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nerve has completed her entire cure.

Local News.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meaders left for the World's Fair last Saturday.

Mr. Julian, of Forsyth county, paid his daughter, Mrs. O. J. Lilly, a visit last Sunday at Dahloonga.

Miss Lucile Smith, of Anniston, Ala., is up on a visit to her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Wheelchel at Dahloonga.

There are so many apples in this section that many of the farmers are feeding them to their hogs. This would not be the case if we had railroad facilities.

We have been asked whether it is legal for men not in the jury box to sit on the jury in a lunacy trial. This we do not know, but we notice that it is done here.

Hicks predicts a good deal of rain for November. He hit the last one all right and we hope he is not mistaken in his future predictions, for we need more rain.

Several of our citizens attended a corn shucking up in Chestatee district last Saturday. Some to elector and others went for the purpose of taking a little outing.

Mr. Blake, of Nacoochee Valley, was in Dahloonga a few hours last Saturday. This gentleman was once in charge of the Consolidated gold mine during the big boom here.

While Frank Tolbert was at work down at the Hand last Friday a rock rolled down the bank, striking him on the back of the head and knocked him breathless for awhile.

Saturday night we heard of some young men using Peruna pretty freely. Next morning several empty bottles were found in and about the court house, but those using the liquid had made their escape.

Not long ago Maj. Tillson bought four nice gobblers out in the country, and they came near gobbling themselves to death at the Baptist church organ, just across the street from them, until they got used to it.

W. P. Price, Jr., is headquarters for nice fancy candy, which he offers for sale much cheaper than it can be bought at wholesale in Atlanta. It is priced at 12¢ candy per pound to 20. The same candy sold heretofore at 40 cents per pound, is now offered at 20.

Mr. Bracket, of White county was down last Sunday, and we are told had a very interesting singing at the Baptist church at this place. The people of Dahloonga take but little interest in vocal music and are away behind other places in singing. At the churches only a few different songs are used and no effort is being made to learn any new ones.

A few nights ago out in Nimblewill district, Jack Wehnt had the misfortune of losing a syrup mill by fire belonging to John Gamlin, together with fifty gallons of syrup and two sets of harness. After finishing the days work the mill was left with a lot of fire under the furnace. The wind rose during the night, explains the cause.

The Presiding Elder was here last week attending the quarterly meeting at the Methodist church. They liked about fifty dollars getting up the required amount, but we understand that this obligation will be met later on. Some of the Methodists are like the Baptists, they are only drones when it comes to paying the preacher, although a portion of them are able to pay the preacher something but it is like pulling their eyes teeth to get the money out of them, while others are not able to contribute anything. The idea of sending off money for foreign missions for the hire of some one to try to convert some heathen who is already ready safe, and at the same time owing the preacher here for services already rendered for trying to save lost souls and "keeping them in line" is more food for thought.

We have an Ashley sign. Who wants it?

SHINGLES. — When you need shingles of any kind write Hutcherson Bros., Fieda, Ga. They will save you money.

Mr. Will Keenum caught a very fine cat on a trap in the Chestatee river last Friday, weighing about five pounds, and gave it to Capt. Ingersoll.

Dr. McAfee, president of the McAfee-Lind Mining Co., after spending several days at the mines, returned to his home in Atlanta last Saturday.

Jude Huff has received the election blanks for justices of the peace, which takes place on the first Saturday in December. The registration book for this election will close tomorrow.

Prof. Barnes went as far as Atlanta with cadet Dunn last Saturday, who was sick with stomach trouble. Mr. Dunn was met there by his father and carried back to his home at Warm Springs.

Last Friday the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College met and appropriated enough money to pay Dr. Glenn's expenses to New York, who will leave here in a few days to see if he can't get a slice of the $80,000 peabody fund for this place.

D. O. Johnson proposes to sell shoes cheaper than any one else in town, and all other goods as low as can be had here, and pays the highest market price for country produce. Shoes from 25 to 50 cents cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere in Dahloonga. If Cabbages have been selling here this week at one dollar per hundred. Last years cabbage worm scaro is all over and everybody eats this splendid vegetable without any fear of danger now. This would not occurred had some one not been silly enough to eat cabbage without any grease in them. This is enough to hurt any body.

Recently H. E. Watson, of Dahloonga, refused to take his Nugget out of the post office because we gave an account of him being locked up in the calaboose some weeks ago. It is such a rare occurrence any where to see a member of the church carried to the calaboose in a dog cart, tail end foremost, so drunk that he could not hold up his head that we couldn't help but give the occasion special mention. A decent looking man who makes an ass of himself in such a manner has no right to get mad at any one except himself. However, THE NUGGET will not have to suspend.

The following paragraph of a letter from J. R. Kennedy of California to Andy Deadmon at Anuraria will be of interest to all of our oldest citizens. It is as follows: "I thought in closing my letter to you that I could give you an item for the Dahloonga paper. William Crawford died August 15th, 1904, and was buried by the members of the Gavel Range Lodge F. and A. M. Campoutville, Cal. He was 92 years and 11 months old. He joined the Masons at Dahloonga, Ga., in 1848. He had plenty of money to bury him decently and enough left to have head and foot stones. I promised him years ago to see that he had all this if I lived the longest."

Last week a couple of cadets who had been placed under arrest for two months for violating some of the college rules, broke arrest and left for home. The brother of one of them was at the college and knew nothing about their departure. As soon as he came to town and learned what had happened he wired his father. His father wired back to have the departing boy arrested at Gainesville. The instructions were carried out and both young men are back keeping up with their studies. If all parents would adopt this plan when it is necessary it would be greatly to the future interest to their sons. We do not give their names because it is a private matter between father and son without any warrant, as no crime was committed.

The election in this county passed nice and quiet.

Col. and Mrs. Baker went down to Atlanta Tuesday.

Ashley failed to reform the 9th. He's not much of a missionary.

Mr. John Jenkins is engaged in repairing the old Wimpy mill.

Mr. John Hatfield, who used to live in Dahloonga, is now located at Monticello, Ga.

T. J. Smith & Bro. have just received a nice lot of oranges, and keeps everything else you need.

Mr. E. E. Crisson was badly hurt a few nights ago by falling out of a tree while trying to catch a chicken.

Mr. J. B. Wilkins, who used to reside in Lumpkin county, but now lives at Monroe, Ga., was up a while this week meeting his many friends and acquaintances.

On the afternoon Ashley's sign was removed from its long resting place to the court house yard and hung up side-down, showing how he would represent the 9th if elected.

Uncle Kimsey Bearden, of Nimblewill district, brought in a large load of nice watermelons last Tuesday. The most of them were bought and gave to Bell's friends. Oh, how sweet they tasted.

The Bell Telephone Co. allowed the election news last Tuesday night to be transmitted over its wires free of charge, enabling our citizens, through the kindness of Mr. R. C. Meaders, to get it as quickly as in the large cities.

The name of the Ashley school house in Lumpkin county must be changed to the Bell. Those good people over there only gave the carpet bagger 7 votes. While Bell got 21. This shows that there are but few men over there in favor of a Sherman sympathizer against a native of the 9th district.

Mr. James Hicks, of Dawson county, 44 years of age, who used to live within six miles of Dahloonga, was in the city last Wednesday for the first time in life. He was accompanied by Mr. J. D. Bryson, who lives in Ashley's "home" district in Dawson county, that only gave him seven votes to 21.

Nimblewill is the strongest republican district in the county and it voted over 50 for Ashley, and was so hot, republican speaking, that our representative, Shultz, came to town to vote. They even voted an old confederate soldier for Ashley. Well, things will change some time. In Dahloonga "Uncle" Dick Anderson, col., voted the democratic ticket for the first time in life. Ashley had said that he was in favor of disfranchising all who could not read and Uncle Dick was on the list.

Now that a republican president is elected various persons who rendered any assistance in Roosevelt's cause, will be wanting the post-office here, and will soon be circulating petitions, asking for the same. Every democrat should stand off without signing any man's petition for this office, for no attention will be paid to democrats anyway. But we will say this in justice to our present postmaster, Mr. W. H. C. Tate, though he be a republican, no official in his position here has ever been as accommodating in the discharge of his duties.

Our old friend, Mr. S. A. Kelly, who it was reported some time ago was dead, is still alive and living at Mart, Texas. He has been a reader of THE NUGGET ever since we took hold of it and renewed again this week, and in addition to this, sends for a picture of Dahloonga to see if he can recognize the house he lived in. We guess not, on account of the many changes that have taken place since he departed. On the corner of what used to be known as the Free Jim lot, near his old home, stands a large beautiful brick church, and across the street above his house is a large two story house on what was known when Mr. Kelly was here last, as the Cook lot.

Mr. Tom Duckett came home on a visit from Alabama this week.

Mr. C. Castleberry, of Hall county, paid our office a pleasant visit last Sunday.

Rev. W. C. Taylor went down into Forsyth county last Monday to run a protracted meeting.

Although the rain of last week was light it gave a little more strength to the power at the mines.

Corn shuckings are the order of the day now, giving much joy, as the yield is large and the corn nice and sound.

A number of our subscribers are renewing their subscriptions to THE NUGGET as fast as their terms expire. This is business. Thanks.

The last acts of the legislature are now ready in the ordinary office for distribution to the officers who are entitled to them.

The N. G. A. College was never in a more flourishing and prosperous condition than it is today. Same way with the public school at this place.

See registration notice in this issue. If you wish to vote for three aldermen for the city of Dahloonga in December, go and register before the book closes.

We notice these needing ceiling in Dahloonga, have to send to Hall county after it. Our mill men should wake up, for such as this causes money to be scarcer in our county.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Marlow arrived in Dahloonga from Alabama this week, where they will likely reside the rest of their life, as there is no place like home.

The little three or four line local reader of B. R. Meaders of Dahloonga, week before last, caused a number of fine mules to be brought to Dahloonga, several of which he bought.

Lost by J. W. Hendricks, of Gaddistown, Ga., one read ox, unbranded, near 7 years old, weighing 900 or 1,000 pounds. This steer is chuffy made, with a smooth set of horns, and is supposed to be unmarked by the one he bought him from.

Mr. J. M. Parks, of Garland, who expects to leave Lumpkin about the first of the year, was here this week getting the postmaster to sign a petition asking that the department appoint his brother postmaster over there in his place. Mr. Parks is a good citizen and we dislike to give him up.

Mr. H. H. Wood, of Forsyth county, was in Dahloonga last Monday and while here had the pleasure of meeting "Choctaw" Davis, who was in the same company during the civil war. Both had changed so that they didn't recognize each other. To say that it was a happy meeting doesn't express it.

A few weeks ago Sam Goodlock, one of the negroes who left the republican convention at Dahloonga on account of the way Col. Farrow was treated, was strong against Ashley. Last Monday he came up to see the negroes in the interest of this man. Preachers who have no more firmness about them than this should quit the business and go to working for the devil openly.

While the lower end of the J. F. Moore building was being torn down recently, two Georgia Advocates published in Atlanta, were picked up Mr. J. F. Castleberry. One was dated April 6, 1880, and the other September 14, same year. We find many things of interest in them. In one we find a letter written from Cleveland, Ga., by W. O. Butler, describing the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains, schools, etc., and mentions the college at Dahloonga. In those days they solicited money for foreign missions just the same as today. Brother Jesse Boring, at Oxford, Ga., called for the money assessed the several circuits and stations for the outfit of Rev. Geo. R. Locks, missionary to China, to be sent to J. S. Stewart at the above named place.

Mining Notes.

Manuel Garrett and Henry Sparks got their large boiler in position last week and are now breaking some ore that is fine down at the Barlow.

Messrs. Huff and Moose still keep working their mine, getting it in good shape to make money when ample water can be obtained to work it on full time.

Last Sunday Manager Crisson received a message from General Warner for him to resume work at the Crown Mountain mine, and the first thing started Wednesday was the pump. The water is some fluster and it may be that they will be able to keep this plant in operation now. The last conclusion was so good that the General hopes to see the mine idle.

The following act passed by the last Georgia legislature will be of interest to mining men to-wit: "Any person, corporation or company of persons, or corporations chartered under the laws of any state of the United States, who may be actually engaged in the business of mining iron, copper, gold, coal, or any other metal or mineral; in quarrying marble, granite, or any other stone, or in making coppers, sulphur, saltpeter, alum, or other similar articles, and may need for the successful prosecution of such business a right of way for a railroad, turnpike, or a common road across the lands of others, such right of way may be obtained in the same manner that the right to convey water across the lands of others may be acquired by the owner of mines as provided by the Code."

Prosperous Time.

From every quarter come reports of the prosperity of the Georgia farmers, says the Macon Telegraph—both owners and tenants. Bankers and factors and merchants tell of old debts paid and of velvet in the pocket. The moneyed institutions have more cash to loan than in many a long day. It has been a grand year for Georgia in all respects. The farm labor of the state was never in a happier condition, for there has been profit, above the cost of living in ten-cent cotton.

One of the fine results has been the reclamation of seige land. When the price of cotton is low, tenants will not put a plow into it. When the price is high they are willing to make the effort. The agricultural situation in Georgia and the South is now at its best mark. There is peace and contentment. To disturb it would be to sacrifice all that has been gained. The South is no field for the agitator or the political revolutionary. Things are about as they be. The blessings of Providence seem to multiply from year to year. The opportunities for the industrious increase and widen. The demands of the world for the products of the soil grow larger and the South is responding magnificently. Farm labor has come into its reward. There is going to be no retrogression, for, in the nature of things, there can be none. A decade of such conditions as have prevailed in the Southern states for the last two years would make of the South the actual Eldorado which the ancient traveler dreamed.

A few weeks ago Pat Elrod, of Hall county, discovered his barn on fire. He ran down barefooted and opened both doors to let his horses out. Not seeing both go out at the door he ran in, after the floor or ground was literally covered with fire coals to see, and all the skin of the bottoms of his feet soon dropped off and he is unable to walk yet.

The petition of the North Georgia Electric Company, a body corporate and politic under the laws of said State, and existing as such by virtue of a charter granted by this honorable Court on the 27th day of April, 1901, shows to the Court the following facts, to-wit:

That said corporation desires to amend its charter and to change the office and principal place of doing and transacting the business of said corporation from Dahloonga, in Lumpkin county, Georgia, to Gainesville, in Hall County, Georgia, so that its principal place of doing business and its main office will after the granting of this charter be in Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia.

Said corporation, however, desires the power and right to have branch offices and such other place, or places, of transacting business as set forth in its charter and as herein set forth and in such place or places as it may from time to time deem desirable.

Said corporation desires that its powers, rights and privileges be enlarged so as to authorize it to make contracts for the construction of hotels, buildings, dwelling houses, and other such public or private works and improvements as it may from time to time desire to construct.

Said corporation desires that it be authorized to issue and sell bonds or other securities, or in money or in other securities, or in work, or to accept and sell stock, bonds or other securities in payment for such contracts for building or construction or otherwise, and to own, control, or sell any or all of said stock, bonds or other securities or either of them.

Said corporation desires that have such other and further powers as may be consistent with its charter, or as may be authorized by the laws of the State of Georgia.

Wherefore, petitioner prays that this amendment be allowed and that additional powers be granted and the same made a part of said original charter.

And petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Railroad and Farmers.

No two occupations ought to be more in accord than agriculture and railroad transportation. The first is the basis of all durable prosperity, because it feeds and clothes mankind. Railroads are the arteries of commerce and the handmaidens of agriculture. No two agencies of human activity are more closely related than those of production and transportation. They are members of the same industrial body, and bear the same relation to each other that the stomach does to the limbs, that the water does to the ship, that the soil does to vegetation, and that the light of the moon and stars does to the beauty and brightness of the night. Railroads have advanced agriculture more rapidly than all other agencies combined. They have multiplied production almost beyond calculation. Wherever they have been built they have dethroned famine and installed plenty. They are the greatest factors of human progress and civilization, and through their instrumentality and efficiency they have added more to the wealth of the world, to the comfort of mankind and to the sum of human enjoyment during the past half-century than has been done through all the previous ages.

In the United States there are more than 1,000,000 square miles that have been made habitable by the construction of railway lines. There are 2,000,000 persons that have found employment in agriculture in the wild and treeless plains of the United States. Throughout this whole prairie region there were less than 42,000 farms on ranches in 1850. These have been increased to more than 1,000,000. The farms in 1850 were confined to the watercourses and to the ocean shores. Now they occupy all the level or rolling territory of this vast region. In 1858 there was not a single farm in cultivation in the territory now embraced in North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho and Washington, and but 157 in Minnesota and 878 in the whole of California. By the aid of railroads much of this region has been converted into the most productive grain-growing territory in the world, and at the present time the United States is the largest grain and meat producer in the world, as well as the largest exporter of these products.

Railroads have a double reason for fostering all kinds of industries along their lines, and especially are they interested in fostering agriculture, because agriculture gives freight, passenger traffic and induces immigration. Agriculture has more to gain from their successful management than any industry. It should be the ardent and compelling desire of all railroad companies to build up and establish on a firm foundation every branch of husbandry that can be made profitable to the tillers of the soil. So intense is the interest in this direction manifested by some of the best railroad companies that monthly crop reports are sent to their general offices and intelligent men are paid to do this work in an intelligent manner.

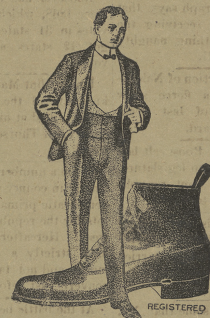

And this is not all. Many of the best-equipped railroads now have established along their lines model farms, where they teach how to produce the staple crops in the best manner and at the least cost. The Great Northern Railway, under the management of that greatest of railway managers, J. J. Hill, observing that the cattle produced along the line were not up to the standard demand by the best cattle markets, bought and distributed 400 high-bred bulls, and the result is that the cattle now in the territory traversed by this line rate higher than the cattle produced in any other part of the Northwest. Mr. Hill also adopted the policy of fostering not only agriculture, but all manufacturing interest along the line of the Great Northern Railroad. He hauled lumber at nominal prices to build towns. He gave the people living on his own line the lowest freight rates and charged persons living on competing lines less than those living on his own line. The result is manifest. The Great Northern Railroad has built over 600 flourishing towns along its lines. Agriculture everywhere is prospering, and the production of wheat and lumber and stock surpasses probably that on any railroad in the West. The history of the success of this road shows how intimately connected are the relations between agriculture and transportation.

The same may be witnessed along the line of the Illinois Central Railroad in Mississippi. Twenty years ago the 'Yazoo' bottoms were almost uninhabited. The gloom of the forests and the rankness of the land repelled at settlers, notwithstanding the soil was of unsurpassed fertility, but under the wise management of that system the Yazoo valley has become the greatest producing region on the line of that road in the South. Lands have increased in value from $1 per acre to $20, $40 per acre, and the railroad, as well as the planters, are reaping the benefits from the liberality and good, hard common sense displayed by the managers of the system. What was unfruitful has been changed into joyous fecundity; what was a gloomy wilderness has been converted into smiling farms; the hideousness in the landscape has been turned into blooming attractiveness.

The condition of the region in West Tennessee around Humboldt, Gadsden, Milan and other places on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and Illinois Central Railroad have been turned during the past 20 years into one of the most fruitful in the South. Berries, fruits and vegetables are grown in great abundance, and through the encouragement of the railroads and satisfactory freights they now reach distant markets. Before these low freights were given, though the lands were fertile, the people were poor. A few dollars were received annually from the cotton crops a few hogs were driven to market; a little corn was sold each year for about 20 cents per bushel, and though the country had great possibilities, they were not revealed until these railroads came to its relief. There are now $100 in circulation in the fruit-growing region of West Tennessee where there were $5 previous to 1870. Fruits have increased many fold in price, the comforts and pleasures of the farming community have been multiplied, and the beauty and attractiveness of the country are manifest to everybody who travels through. What made this prosperity possible? It is the ability of the truck-growers to ship their fruits and vegetables to distant markets. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has often in one year shipped over 10,000,000 pounds of fruits and vegetables from West Tennessee to points outside of the State. The country

The Editor.

An Editor scolded through my yard
Since he had nothing better to do that day.
For the Sheriff he took from the editor
for none.
His whole blamed office the day before.
And so the Scrib through the graveyard looked.
His weary way, when he chanced to look.
On a tombstone high and broad and white—
A positive hurting to the sight!
He drew close up and read the name
Handsome chiseled on the same.
The Editor gave his head a twist
And said, "I think he's got my life."
Sustaining the action to the word.
To his memorandum straight referred.
And drowled, "I knew it—why, look ye here,
He goes by, gone, for seven years!"
And then he said some things in Dutch.
But it isn't recorded that he boomed much.

One of the principal elements of safety to life and property in our society is the indulgence and the consequent stupidity of many of the civil disposed. There are a few persons who are honest and only because they are afflicted with the germ of laziness. Philadelphi

Getting Brightness Into Our Lives.

Selfishness is darkness. It shuts us up in the tight little box of our own lives. Unselfishness gives us a wide circle of interest and delight. What we do for others has as much to do with our happiness as what we do for ourselves. Just think how many joys a man may have who is not confined to his own reasons for rejoicing! Remember how Jeanie Deans blessed the good lady who helped her, saying: "When the hour of trouble comes—and seldom may it visit your household—and when the day of death comes, that comes to high and low—long and late may it be yours, O my ledly! then it is not what we have done for ourselves, but what we have done for others, that we think of most pleasantly." And this truth is for all hours, though it be most clearly manifested in the hour of extremity. Doing the most for others is doing the best for ourselves. If you have never made another life bright, you know not how much brightness can come into your own. It is no wonder Paul and Silas rejoiced at midnight, with their feet in stocks, and praised God, for they had been doing good all day. —E.V.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 18, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Joseph W. Fork, a democrat, was elected governor of Missouri, but Roosevelt carried it.

The Macon Telegraph says that Big Jim Ashley, on receiving the returns, said something naughty that rhymes with Bell.

The northern portion of Nebraska was struck by a fierce snow storm later part of last week, turning into a blizzard.

Missouri went for Roosevelt last week and a republican legislature. West Virginia also went republican by from 25,000 to 30,000.

Watson carried his own county but lost Georgia. Parker carried it by 40,000. Roosevelt carried Mr. Davis' state, and broke the solid south.

It is believed by some that Mr. Ashley will be appointed U. S. Collector of Georgia, which position is now held by Rucker, a negro. We hope he will.

Mr. George A. Lowery of Boston, Mass., has invented a cotton picker, that is now at work in the cotton fields near Albany, Ga., and its success has been demonstrated by actual test. It can do in a day the work of twenty pickers.

They have invented a sure enough cotton picker, says the Marietta Journal, and have it at work in a field near Albany, Ga. There are a number of cotton pickers loafing around Marietta, eating "hand outs." Don't know when they were invented.

Ashley carried Union by 75; Towns 47; Gilmer 63; Pickens 90; Fannin 198. Total majority in the five counties 766. Bell carried all the rest of the counties by 1,690, making his total majority over Ashley 6,982, being a little less than was announced in our last issue.

The total vote for president in Georgia is: Parker 88,331; Roosevelt 25,835; Watson 23,490. Watson carried the counties of Douglas, Glascock, Jackson, Jefferson, Johnson, McDuffie, McIntosh, Oconee, Paulding and Warren. Roosevelt carried Fannin, Gilmer, Harlson, Pickens, Polk, Towns, Union, Worth.

The successful flight of the Baldwin ship at St. Louis marks another step in the direction of the accomplishment of that end toward which so many scientists and inventors are bending their energies. The Baldwin ship sailed with and against the wind, rising to a height of 2,000 feet, responding to the operator's every call, and finally returning intact to the starting point.

We heard a man say the other day that a negro renter on his place had made 10 bales of cotton this season with a $20 mule. He also stated one bale of it would pay the negro's debts. Who said this wasn't the black man's country? He can do better here than anywhere else under the sun. This should be a lesson to others of his race. Especially that class that loaf about the towns, and depend on what odd jobs they can pick up.—Dallas News Era.

On Sunday, the 9th inst. Mr. Moses Tollis, a neighbor of Esquire J. W. Mitchell's, in Hog Mountain district, got a few eggs and an old hen and started to Lawrenceville to trade. His women folks went to the field and commenced to pick cotton and did not find out that it was Sabbath day until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Tollis got nearly to town, when he was informed that he could not dispose of his produce, and then turned back and made his family acquainted with the mistake.—Gwynett News-Herald.

Roosevelt's plurality in popular vote is about 2,000,000.

The great World's Fair closes on the last day of this month.

On the 12th the price of refined sugars in New York advanced 10 cents a hundred pounds.

The Baltimore Manufacturers Record says the democrats lost last week on account of being for free trade.

Roosevelt has the largest vote since 1868, which is 343 electoral votes in 84 states. Parker only got 12 states and 183 electoral votes.

Uncle Olin Mattox, who is well known to all the people in this section, died at his home in Hall county, on Thursday night of last week.

Quite a number of persons in Lumpkin county who voted in the democratic primary, cast their ballots for the republican ticket last week. Hereafter the party should have strictly a democratic primaries and not take in any new converts just before it occurs.

At the battle between the Russians and Japanese at Liano Yang, the Japs were caught in pitfalls and barbed wire entanglements. The holes were from 8 to 10 feet deep and separated from each other by a small space of soil less than a foot wide. Sharp stakes were placed in the bottom of the pits, and hundreds of Japs were caught in these traps and perished.

Just as soon as the presidential election closed and the votes were counted, the oil combine advanced the price four cents on the gallon. The oil king contributed a large amount to the republican campaign fund but as soon as the election is over every democrat, and even widow women have to help pay him back. It's a very easy matter for a person to contribute large sums for such purposes when he can raise the price of oil and not only get it back but make thousands of dollars extra.

The case of Bennett Conyers airts estate, recently in Bartow Superior court, won a war time demand against the county for $1,700. This case was created against Bartow during the civil war, has long been in courts. It has been tried several times, and has been carried up to the Supreme court and again carried back for trial. During the early years of the war between the states, Bartow, with many other counties, issued bonds for the purpose of supplying the families of the absent soldiers with needed supplies. Bartow issued $200,000 of these bonds and they were taken up by various parties. Among those who secured these bonds was the late Bennett Conyers, who sold the county 3,000 bushels of corn, and took county bonds to the amount of $9,700. The matter stood for many years, passing between the Superior and Supreme courts, until the present trial, which has given the claimants a verdict of $1,700.

On the recent election day at Blue Ridge, Uncle Sam, at the suggestion of Mr. Ashley, sent up some of his officials to look after the election over there and this is what the Blue Ridge World says about it. "The United States marshals sent here to watch the election may be good hands at watching elections but they can't run a bogus telegram to hurt. During the election here Tuesday they were circulating one which purported to be from J. B. Gaston at Gainesville to A. S. J. Hall at this place and when brought to Mr. Hall where he was helping to manage the election, it was written out with pen and ink on a blank that had never been folded or put in an envelope. "Mr. U. S. Marshal" stated that he had broken it open, and it stated "Jackson gives Ashley 1000, Banks 200, Gwynnett about even." The other managers know that the operators here always use typewriters and seeing that he had never been in an envelope, soon decided that it was a fake, gotten up to catch the floating vote and so declared it."

Auraria Notes.

We have the whippoorwill storm, and the equinoctial gales, but the wild republican storm just passed has left upon its wake the worst blizzard we have seen this season.

Several of our citizens have recently moved to Gainesville to work in the New Holland factory. Mr. and Mrs. John Summerour's (Jr.) baby died the 5th and was buried here the following day.

Old Uncle George Chapman died three miles below here at his residence, and was buried at Soul's Chapel cemetery on the 10th inst. He was 94 years of age at his death, possibly the oldest person in the county. He was a resident of this place before the Indians were removed from here.

The election here passed off unusually quiet, but Uncle Bonny Tank, you know, must have a little political fun at least every four years. It so happened that there was no liquor on the ground but from the Buckeye state. I have heard that Bonny will take a drink some times. So he goes to the men having the Buckeye liquor and tells them that he (Bonny) would place the liquor all right in Big Jim's favor, and when going to have his bottles replenished, he would report that Big Jim and Buckeye were sweeping the country like a cyclone. But alas! for Big Jim and his Buckeye liquor. Bonny says it is all fair in politics.

The only cotton gin in Cherokee county is owned by Mr. Miles Teom.

Last Sunday lives and much property were destroyed by a terrific storm on the Atlanta coast. Estimated loss $1,000,000.

On Saturday night, while in a drunken condition, George Maxwell fell into a ditch near Sunny Side, Ga., and froze to death.

Cobb Superior court will convene on Nov. 21st and hold two days and adjourn to the following Monday. This will be done in order that the court house may be used for the business meetings of the North Georgia Conference, which will be in session there at that time.

Last Monday Lewis Thornton, of Atlanta, after being bound over for breaking his wife's arm and for vagrancy, undertook to kill himself by butting his brains out against the radiator in the prisoner's room, but was interfered with before finishing the job.

Some of our office seekers are looking up to Mr. Ashley with their mouths open like young birds asking for a crum when the old one comes to the nest. Now wouldn't it be funny should the other fellows who have not over confidence in this man, seek and find an office through another source? Mrs. Longstreet got a position without even consulting Mr. Ashley.

Our old friend, Mr. J. B. Witt, of McCay, Tenn., says, "now that the storm is over, I will renew my subscription, as I want the Lumpkin county news." As to the election, we were not surprised at Roosevelt's success, except we didn't think he would get the whole United States and doubtless could have carried China and other foreign countries, had he intimidated that he wanted them. The man you spoke of, Mr. Witt, is not hurting, as he took no interest except to vote, like a number of others here.

Col. H. P. Farrow left for the World's Fair last Monday, where he expects to remain a couple of weeks and take in the great sights of the "biggest show on earth." The Colonel is highly pleased with the recent election. A few days before the congressional election he said, in an interview with a Constitution reporter, that Tom Bell would carry the Ninth by 7,000 majority. The returns show that he only missed it by 68 votes. Can any one beat him guessing on elections? This guess shows that Col. Farrow must know something about the Ninth.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

The Two Run Postoffice.

The postoffice at Two Run, in Lumpkin county, seems to be worrying Mr. Ashley, the badly defeated candidate for congress. Why? Because Mr. John Graham would not "get in line" at his command and vote for him. Miss Graham, an invalid, is the postmistress, and her brother is the assistant. An effort has been made by this hard hearted, hungry office seeker, as well as some of his worshippers, to get some one up there to take the office so he can put this poor sick woman out, but so far has not found any one that will turn their back on their neighbors for the sake of about $12 a year just to please a man who would take revenge against every man who did not support him, and their sisters and mother if he had a chance. Threats have been made to even have the office abolished if they didn't. Oh how mean a man is who claims to be a gentleman, having such a disposition.

From B. R. Meaders & Sons.

Heart Weakness.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has made many hearts well after they have been pronounced hopeless. It has completely cured thousands, and will almost invariably cure or benefit every case of heart disease.

Short breath, pain around heart, palpitation, fluttering, dizzy, fainting and smothering spells should not be neglected. Take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and see how quick you will be relieved.

It cannot make a new heart, but will restore a sick one by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles, relieving the unnatural strain, and restoring its vitality.

"I had a very bad case of heart trouble. For six months I was plowing corn and feeling bad all day, in the afternoon, or fall down, three times. My heart throbbed as though I would burst through it. I had difficulty getting my breath. I purchased a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and before I had used half of it I could lay down and sleep all night. Presently I had to get up from five to ten times a night. I have taken several bottles, and my heart is as regular as clock work. I have a new man, and can work considerable for an old man, 44½ years old."

H. D. McMillan, Frost, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Local News.

Corn meal is now retailing here at from 75 to 80 cents per bushel.

The old Wimpy mill has been repaired and hereafter no one will have to be turned away with their corn.

Mr. John H. Moore has purchased the Geo. W. White town property adjoining the old acad only.

It was announced some time ago that the students' paper would appear about the first of this month, but so far it has failed.

If you wish good pictures now is the time to have the work done by the Dahloega Portrait Co. while the weather is fair and everything bright.

Have you got any railroad news? is the question often asked us. No, nor do we expect any before the first of next year, and maybe not then.

Cadet T. H. Hunt left last Monday for his home at Chocomauga, Ga., to be with his mother who is sick, but hopes to be able to return again at an early day.

We had rather have Bells endorsement for the Dahloega post-office if we were a republican than that of his opponent who is defeated by nearly 7,000.

United States Deputy Marshal Grizzle has been attending U. S. court at Athens a portion of this week, as a witness against defendants charged with blockading, residing in White county.

Mr. Wine Sain, who lives on the Blue Ridge Mountain, had his last mess of green beans for dinner last Saturday gathered out of the field. It is a little singular that there is no frost on the mountain where he resides until a freeze. Elsewhere there has been frost nearly every morning for some time, but there had been none at Mr. Sains up to that time.

A young man out at Wild having fallen in love with one of White county's fairest maids, went up a few days ago to ask the old man if he was willing for him to have his daughter. The gentleman who had just finished making up six barrels of syrup, said "yes, and I will throw you in a barrel of syrup," but the wedding hasn't taken place yet. It may be that this young man is not fond of syrup.

Our preachers here must not be discouraged for not having done more good during their stay. This is a year of politics and many people get wrong. Men who will go up to the polls at a primary and pledge themselves to support the nominee, and then fail, have no confidence in themselves and look bad for months and preacher nor no one else can do them any good for twelve months or more, if then. Therefore, the ministers must not be held responsible for their conduct.

We had a notion (?) of returning republican, like some others we could mention, and apply for an office under the present administration—the Dahloega post-office for instance—but Mr. Tate's term of office does not expire until the 8th day of July, 1906, and there is no way to get him out unless charges are made, and this cannot be done. So we will have to be contented with our present occupation of grinding out the news for our many patrons.

Mr. Henley Wimpy, who had a small notion of going West later on, made 1180 bushels of corn on the Bruce place this year. This corn here is worth now 55 cents per bushel, later on more. In the West corn is worth about 15 cents per bushel. So out there he would have to make about four times as much corn as he does here to get the same amount of money out of it, saying nothing of the time it takes to handle it. Here, when the ground is too wet to work, or he is through with his crop, he can haul wood. In the West there is no wood to haul. So after all we would not swap our chances here for anywhere in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams visited relatives up at Two Run, Ga., last week.

Dr. G. H. Jones and Mr. R. C. Meaders are taking in the World's Fair this week.

The many green leaves and flowers while it was snowing last Sunday looked a little out of season.

Mr. U. V. Anderson, well known in Dahloega, and who owns real estate here, is now located at Carnesville, Ga.

Mr. R. L. Carroll, of Pender grass, Ga., was up to see his father and sister at Dahloega last Friday and Saturday.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving and all our merchants will close up their stores as usual and the most of them will go rabbit hunting.

Some of our citizens have, so we understand, been down to see Mr. Ashley about getting the appointment of post-offices and other positions of importance.

A certain woman in this county who owed an attorney five dollars for defending her in a state case, gave $2.00 and scheduled the other day to keep from paying the debt. How's this in the way of appreciation?

Our citizens should burn out their chimneys when it rains again. Another thing that is very important, is the examination of the chimneys in the attics. The 4x5 hole in one of Hall's Villa chimneys should be a warning to all.

About all the business men in town have already signed a petition asking that Postmaster W. H. C. Tate, at this place, be re-appointed when his present term expires. This proves that he has given good service and they desire no change.

Last Saturday it commenced raining slowly and continued until some time in the night. The next morning when the clouds had changed from east to west we were given some snow, and on Monday the mountains were covered. Being the first we have had this season.

Bear in mind that if you live within the corporate limits and want to vote in the alderman's election you will have to go to Alderman Price and register by the first of December. This registration has nothing to do with county matters. It is a different registration book.

After remaining a month in Dahloega our friend, Mr. F. J. Williams, returned to the mountains near Two Run, (you have doubtless heard of this post office) "where the lion roareth and the whangdoodle mourneth," &c., where he can enjoy himself most of the time hunting rabbits, partridges and turkey, after harvesting a good crop of corn and other farm products.

The N. G. A. College foot ball team had accepted a challenge from a team of soldiers stationed at McPherson and the day to play was fixed for last Monday at that place but the troops were ordered to St. Louis to take care of the government property at the fair and the game was called off. Some of the college boys had already gone to Atlanta and all were very much disappointed.

Last Friday night out at Mr. Davie Grindle's corn shucking Lee Redmond, aged about 17, a son of Mr. John Redmond, was badly bruised up by Boyd Anderson, a son of Mr. Luke Anderson, whose age is about the same. These boys were the best of friends, but we are told that Boyd Anderson was drinking and came out into the yard cursing when Lee Redmond told him that he ought not to do that in hearing of ladies. This made Boyd mad and he jumped on Lee in the yard. It was dark and no one interfered. When it was over the latter had one of his collar bones broken, a bad looking scar in his forehead and one on the back of his head. One supposed to be made by knucks and the other with a rock.

Send us your orders per printed stationery.

Gen. Warner and Mr. Carlie spent a day in Dahloega last week on business.

We are glad to be able to state that Billie Davis, who has been very sick, is improving.

Citizens of Dahloega, don't forget to register before the book closes on the 1st of December.

SHINGLES.—When you need shingles of any kind write Hutcherson Bros., Piedra, Ga. They will save you money.

We regret that we could not accept the invitation to attend a corn shucking down at Mr. J. H. Sumner's last Friday.

Among the numerous renewed subscribers within the past few days is Mrs. Sallie Cox, of Cleveland, Ga., who states that she is like her father, a life-time subscriber to THE NUGGET.

It is hoped that the damage cases of Mr. London and Burns against the North Georgia Electric Co. will be compromised. It would be best for all parties, and not cripple the progress of our railroad.

We clip from the Southern Farm Magazine an article written by Col. J. B. Killebrew, who discusses the relations of railroads and farmers. It is very interesting and will be found on our first page.

Tate & Son have just replaced their broken boarding house bell with a new one. This cracked bell called us to a school academy in Dahloega forty years ago and feels as dear to us almost as the old liberty bell. It is at least fifty years old and maybe older.

Country produce has been selling from the wagons in Dahloega since our last issue as follows: Irish potatoes 55 cents cash, 60 grade. Eggs 17 cents per dozen cash, 20 grade. Good apples only worth 40 cents per bushel. Corn 55 cents cash, 60 grade. Pork 7 cents cash. Fodder from $1.30 to $1.75 per hundred cash.]

Rev. J. D. Turner, who has been pastor of the Methodist church at Dahloega for the past twelve months, preached his last sermon Sunday, and as usual, it was a fine one and interested all present. After this Mr. Turner will withdraw from the Methodist conference and go on a farm for awhile. He has now gone to the conference, which convenes at Marietta on the 21st. This divine and his family have made many friends since being in our midst, all of whom regret to give them up.

We regret to hear of the bad conduct some students had at Auraria last Friday night while on their way to Atlanta. We did not get but a couple of the names out of six, therefore we will not mention the two. It was after ten when they reached Auraria, and at their request Mr. Miller had supper prepared for them. When they went to leave a couple of cups and a soup dish were picked up by some of them and one of the cups broke over the back wheel when they went to depart right in the presence of Mrs. Miller. The lady informed her husband and Mr. Miller telephoned the authorities at Gainesville to arrest the crowd upon their arrival at that place. On their way, however, down about Price, the ten mile post was jerked up out of the ground. Had there been no liquor among them none of this mischief would have occurred. They all felt happy along the way, little dreaming of the message that had been sent on ahead, causing two big policemen to "be in waiting" for them. All were arrested when reaching the city. Only four were found to be participants in this mischief, and the matter was compromised and the boys turned loose upon the payment of $5.00. Pretty dear fun. The mile post is an after consideration.

We have had no rain here so far this week.

Rev. J. D. Turner will locate at Hartwell, Ga.

Those owing Dr. Stow will find a notice to them in this issue.

Mr. Breymann returned to his home yesterday morning.

Mrs. W. H. Jones, after an absence from home for some time, has returned.

We understand that Miss Bessie Asbury is going to apply for the Dahloega postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Webb, are on a visit to relatives below Atlanta this week.

Appropriate services will be held at the public school by the pupils on Thanksgiving day.

If you wish any pork, beef, bacon, hams, or any kind of country produce call on John H. Moore.

Rev. Mr. Calloway, principal of the Dahloega public school, will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Ike Reid is selling out his farm products with the intention of locating in Texas and handling the painter's brush.

Those indebted to M. J. Williams will find it to their interest to read his notice elsewhere and govern themselves accordingly.

Any one wishing to buy the Scott Stringer farm in Lumpkin county can call on or write to John A. Smith, Gainesville, Ga.

Mr. Tom Stringer, of this county, who has been doing masonry work in Atlanta since August, paid Dahloega a visit on Wednesday.

It is probable that the college foot ball team will meet the Stone Mountain eleven and play down at Gainesville on Thanksgiving day.

Dr. and Mrs. Glenn left last Monday for New York to be gone a few days. The object of the Doctor's visit is to look after the interest of the N. G. A. College.

Mr. Harry Tregent, who left Dahloega for Chicago several days ago, intends spending Thanksgiving with his sister there and then return to his home here.

We hope the fellow who is offended at ye editor will not get as mad as the man who saw the bear. Be quiet and take a dose of soothing drops. It won't effect you like mean campaign liquor.

All our farmers are well pleased with their crops this season. Hereafter only a few of them have been raising their pork. Now all are engaged in raising both hog and poultry and the country is in a prosperous condition.

The letter written and mailed in Gainesville on Friday last didn't reach us until Tuesday afternoon. It went via Dawsonville, is the cause. Had it been a notice of some one being sick they could have died and been buried before the letter reached its destination.

The ticket for councilmen to be found elsewhere, is published as requested. They are all good men and if no one is named now or may be mentioned before the primary, do not wish to serve, they can let our citizens know it free of charge through THE NUGGET.

Mr. B. F. Anderson is also putting up a petition, asking that he be made postmaster at Dahloega, Mr. Tate, the present postmaster and an applicant again, is his uncle, but people don't stand back for kin folks these days when it comes to distributing the official crumbs.

We couldn't help but study the other day when a poor lady approached a crowd soliciting subscriptions for the rebuilding of her cottage which was destroyed not long ago in Dahloega by fire, to a countryman who was plenty able to give something, stepping off when he found out what was wanted. When country people have misfortunes like this they always come to town and are not turned away without something either.

Mining Notes.

The Briar Patch dredge has been digging right along and works like a charm.

The rain of last Monday and Monday night has strengthened the power, giving more activity in mining this week.

Col. Jones, president of the Cavender's Creek mine, was expected to arrive last Monday who comes for the purpose of doing some work.

The mill at the Barlow was started up last Monday on ore taken out by Sparks and Garrett. They have out about 35 tons which is expected to give good results.

Thirty stamps are running regularly down at the Hand since the small increase in the power, with good results. Superintendent Tom Ray and General Manager Bainbridge is getting things in fine shape down there now.

The Ingersoll & Crismon dredge boat has been unable to run any since the Crown Mountain plant started up. Crown Mountain is only run yet during the day, but when the gate is shut down at the Gorge it interferes with the work of the dredge, being so high up the river that there is not sufficient water for it to work in until there is more rain.

The directors decided to have the Findley mill dam rebuilt for the purpose of working this mine for the first time by the company since it has changed hands. Mr. John Jenkins has already made an estimate of the number of logs it will take, the amount of lumber required and turned it over to Mr. Bainbridge, who it is expected, will let the log contract out at an early day.

The late rain has enabled the Crown Mountain mine to run its plant during the day, having an abundance of ore which shows up well, and it is hoped that the drought is broken now and that this and all other plants in this section will soon be able to get in full time. No shaft work is being done yet, but as soon as the power is sufficient this work will receive attention.

Our Auraria correspondent in speaking of the Josephine mine says: It is still in a dormant condition. We do not know when it will be started nor why it was stopped, unless too many of the company wanted to be general manager. We think it is a good mine if it was properly worked. The Briar Patch dredge boat is running smoothly and satisfactorily and we anticipate for it a great future.

Down at the upper Etowah Mr. Craig R. Arnold will soon have ten stamps ready for operation at this celebrated mine, with the expectation of adding ten more at an early day. This is the first stamp mill that was ever built at the Etowah. Huntington mills were used by the former operators which were nearly always out of fix and will break any company using them if it will only continue it long enough. Our correspondent informs us that Mr. Arnold is speaking of putting up a commissary store for the convenience of his hands.

An old miner in speaking of the Galloway and Turkey Hill mines says: They have 1,000 acres and three and a half miles of river, the best dredging in the county, and more good placer diggings than any where, which cannot be worked out in 25 years, besides the veins. It is a mass of veins large and small and all good. Wharton Anderson made a fine clean up, and W. T. Hyman and Del Loggins are taking out ore that is worth $20 a ton. Green Crumby, Jake Loggins and Will Lemby are taking out good ore at two different places. Henry Cannon also has a good placer mine. The Turkey Hill has some fine shows that pan from five cents up to four dollars to the pan.

FOR SALE.—I have for sale 2 yokes of cattle, one medium, the other yoke extra large. Also 1 good double barrel breech loading shot gun. One set of carpenter's tools, just received. Full line of dry goods, outings, flannels, water proof, &c., &c. Come and see. M. J. WILLIAMS.

Yesterday morning at about 1 o'clock Mrs. Alice Woodward, after a long lingering illness of consumption, breathed her last at the premises of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Al Roberts, who have kept a careful and watchful eye over their daughter during the whole time, doing everything in their power for her comfort and relief, yet death has claimed her as its own and she is gone to her reward, leaving behind two little children who are too small to realize the loss of a dear mother.

The kind of brandy Tom Duckett was drinking Wednesday night must have been as bad as the liquor the boys drank before the election which was called "Ashley knock out drops." After Lord Bruce carried him home Tom got mad and tried to both shoot and put his heretofore warm friend, so we learn. Not wishing to face either pistol or ax Mr. Bruce left his premises. Mr. Duckett was afterwards locked up by the marshal. Next morning he entered a plea of guilty and was fined one dollar and cost.

If prosperity doesn't come now and remain with us at least four years what will be the excuse?

NOTICE.

If you owe me anything and want to save cost you better come and arrange it. I need the money and am going to put out all my notes and accounts for collection. That is, not arranged at once. Respectfully,

M. J. WILLIAMS.

To the Superior Court of said county.

The petition of the North Georgia Electric Company, a body corporate and politic under the laws of said State, and existing as such by virtue of a charter granted by this honorable Court on the 27th day of April, 1900, shows to the Court the following facts, to-wit:

That said corporation desires to amend its charter so as to change the office and principal place of doing and transacting the business of said corporation from Dahloega, in Lumpkin County, Georgia, to Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia, so that its principal place of doing business and its main office will after the granting of the charter be in Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia.

Said corporation, however, desiring the power and right to have branch offices and such other place, or places, of transacting business as set forth in its charter and as herein set forth and at such place or places as it may from time to time deem desirable.

Said corporation desires that its powers, rights and privileges be enlarged so as to authorize it to make contracts for the construction of hotels, buildings, dwelling houses, sanitariums, and such other public buildings, bridges and improvements as it may deem wise, and time desired to engage in; said Company especially to give the privilege and authority to purchase stock and bonds or other securities of other corporations and pay for the same, either in money or in other securities, or in work, or to accept and stock bonds or other securities in payment for such contracts for building or construction or otherwise, and to own, control, or sell any or all of said stock, bonds or other securities of either of them.

Said corporation desires to have such other and further powers as may be consistent with its charter, or as may be authorized by the laws of the State of Georgia.

Wherefore, petitioner prays that this amendment be allowed and said additional powers be granted and the same made a part of said original charter.

And petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Why Lead is Used for Bullets.

It is evident that the greater weight a bullet has in proportion to its sectional area the less will be the degree of the resistance opposed to it by the air, other things being equal. An athlete could not throw a cork as far as a boy could a piece of lead of the same size and shape. Therefore the heaviest available material—lead—is used in the manufacture of the rifle bullets. For the same reason the modern bullet maintains its velocity much better than the old round bullet used in the musket and early muzzle-loading rifle.

But when a bullet is made longer than its diameter, some means must be taken to insure its flying in the direction of its long axis—point on. This is the object of the spiral grooves that are cut on the inside of a rifle barrel, for it is found that if the bullet be caused to rotate with sufficiently rapidity on its long axis, it will not turn sideways during its flight. The degree of this twist in the rifling is called its "pitch." The longer the bullet in proportion to its diameter the quicker the pitch of the rifling must be; if the bullet is too long for a given pitch of rifling to enable, this will be shown by the bullet going through the target in a sideways or tipping position—in the parlance of the rifleman, it "keyholes." It is necessary for the bullet to be kept point on from consideration of accuracy, as well as to maintain its velocity.

When we increase the proportionate length of our bullets and use a quicker twist of rifling, it becomes necessary to harden the bullet by the addition of tin or antimony, so that it will hold on to the rifling and not be blown straight through the barrel without following the grooves—stripping, rifle men call it. But when we reach a certain point in lengthening the bullet and increasing the pitch of the rifling, no alloy of lead is sufficient to give good results. Therefore, in the modern high power rifle, the bullet is made up of a core of lead, with a jacket of very tough metal, generally an alloy of copper and nickel; and the tough jacket holds on to the rifling so well that we are enabled to fire charges of highly explosive compounds behind the bullet, giving nearly double the velocity that it was possible to obtain with the old black powder rifle.

A person soon begins to lose height at the age of fifty, and at the age of ninety it is estimated that on the average he has lost about one and one-half inches.

Mr. J. A. Howard, of Dahlonega, has presented us with three tickets for the election in 1852, averaging about four inches each. The Doctor's Affidavit.

An amusing incident occurred not long ago in a certain police court. Two men were summoned for being drunk. Rising to speak on their behalf, their solicitor said: "My clients can prove that they were sober. Upon being told they were sober that they would be summoned by the police that they would be examined by a doctor, and I hold in my hand a letter from him which, with your worship's permission, I will now read to the court."

Instantly the solicitor on the other side sprang to his feet and protested against the admission of such a letter as evidence. The objection was held to be a good one; but, the evidence against the men being deemed insufficient in other respects, the case was dismissed. Had the letter been admitted they would undoubtedly have been convicted, for their legal representative had simply "bluffed" the court. The letter from the doctor ran as follows: "The two defendants came to me, and I regret to say that I found that they were both very drunk."—London News.

Pumpkin Pie.

A Western paper, the Chicago Chronicle, noting the reappearance of the pumpkin season, longs for an "old-fashioned pie" made from that vegetable. We are told that "most of the pumpkin pie that is sold in Chicago is made out of squashes, and squashes were never designed for pies. The flavor of the pumpkin in fascinating beyond description, but a squash pie is simply sweetened mush. A man might make a fortune at the restaurant business in Chicago who would serve pumpkin pies made out of pumpkin."

The Southern pumpkin is a big, luscious vegetable. We remember the pies of our grandmothers and mothers. They were delicious. Later day pies had cinnamon in them, which destroyed the peculiarly exquisite flavor of pumpkin. This is intolerable. When we want cinnamon pie we will ask for it, but we prefer our pumpkin straight. A sincerely made pumpkin pie, with a glass of rich cream or milk, is memorable. Try it.

We sympathize with our Western contemporary and if he will come this way we will undertake to fast him on the genuine article, with some Southern trimmings that he will appreciate.

Welcome the pumpkin, the golden pumpkin! Welcome the pumpkin pie that mother used to make.

Watchman's Complicated Task.

A watchman who had been engaged by the directors of an Australian bank had brought with him good recommendations. The chairman of the board sent for him, and proceeded to "post him up" as to his duties.

"Well, James," he began, "this is your first job of this kind, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your duty is to exercise vigilance."

"Yes, sir."

"No stranger must be allowed to enter the bank at night under any pretext whatever."

"No, Sir."

"And our manager—he is a good man, honest and trustworthy; but it will be your duty to keep your eye on him."

"But it will be hard to watch two men and the bank at the same time."

"Two men? How?"

"Why, sir, it was only yesterday that the manager called me in for a talk, and he said you were one of the best men in the city, but it would be just as well to keep both eyes on you, and let the directors know if you hang about after hours."—London Answers.

Electric trains have now superseded steam driven trains on the Mersey Railway, which is the first line in Great Britain to undergo this change. This line is five miles in length, consisting partly of a tunnel under the river. The system in operation is similar to that which will be used on the London District Railway, the track being fitted with two insulated rails, one for the feed and one for the return. Almost the whole of the old locomotive staff has been retained as drivers of electric trains or in other capacities and at the old rate of wages.

"Where is my wandering boy tonight? He is on the streets with bad company, smoking cigarettes, and learning bad language. The marshal will get him after awhile."—Statesboro News.

Brass Button Acts.

Acts were passed in the reigns of William III., Anne and George I. which made it illegal for any tailor or to make or any man to wear clothes with any buttons other than those made of brass appended thereto. The law further enacted that not only should any tailor who committed a breach of it be fined 40 shilling, but also that he should not be able to recover from his customer in a court of law the price of the suit which he had adorned with the offending buttons. The whole object of the act was to protect the Birmingham metal button makers. A case which came before the courts in the year 1854 or 1855, in which a man, on being sued by his tailor, raised a successful defense relying on the acts in question, that the buttons on the clothes which he had ordered, were bone and not brass, called attention to the existence of the anachronism, and the restrictions were soon after abolished.—London King.

To encourage the erection of beautiful residences in Paris the authorities award three gold medals annually to the designers of the most artistic dwellings. The owners of these homes are relieved of half their annual taxes.

There is a new Swiss watch with a phonograph attachment that call out the hours loud enough to be heard twenty feet away. In the course of time we expect to see the deaf and dumb talk mechanically. After while we may walk into a store, press the button, deposit our money, get the price and receive accurate service without the aid of the human hand. All you will have to do will be to put your dollars in the slot, call for what you want, press the button, and electricity will do the rest.—Ex.

Three months ago Henry Weber was a reporter on a Denver daily. For some time he had been interested in mining properties, one of which, in Nevada, has proved to be immensely rich. Mr. Weber has sold his interest in that mine for $500,000 cash, and holds others which are expected to be worth twice as much. He has promoted eighteen companies, four of which are doing well.—Ex.

A prominent Southern lawyer, who had just represented of his wild ways and joined the church, was called upon a religious meeting to pray. He started off very well but didn't know how to how to stop. After asking the Divine blessing on everything he could think of, he finally, with a very determined effort, ended with these words: "Yours truly, J. Q. Mason."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 25, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Carnegie speaks of making a donation of $10,000 for a separate library in Atlanta for the negroes.

The Gainesville & Midland railroad will be extended from Jefferson to Athens at once and made a broad gauge.

Mamie Decaris, the Diamond Queen, has been pardoned out of the Georgia penitentiary. Now she says she received the best of treatment.

Col. J. H. Estill will be in the race for governor again. In the primary before, when he was a candidate the Colonel carried Hampkin county.

President Roosevelt says that he himself is half a southerner and the attacks on him in the south have saddened him. If he would drop the negro it would look more like it.

Rev. Nicholson, who deserted his child and wife at Arlington, Ga., has recently been convicted of bigamy at Cincinnati, O. He has three living wives. Very nice preacher indeed.

In our last issue we said that the "Atlanta coast had been visited by a terrific storm." This is a mistake. Atlanta has had no storm yet, but Dr. Bronghton has returned and a blow is expected at any time.

President Harris Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Growers Protective Association, advises all the farmers to stop selling cotton and not sell another bale on a depressed market.

Taylor Dolk, the famous Pike county outlaw who has been serving a life-time sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of Sheriff W. O. Grogan, dropped dead one day last week at the penitentiary camp in Lowndes county.

The commissioners of Hall county have fixed the tax on distilleries and other wines at $10 from the 1st inst. to the end of the year. The law does not allow wine to be sold in less quantities than a quart and then it must not be drunk on the premises of the seller.

Some of the people talk prohibition, but when it comes to voting they forget to practice what they preach, which was clearly demonstrated at the last election because the prohibition candidate for president of the United States only received 217 votes, all told in Georgia.

Between Greenville and Tazewell, N. C., early Saturday morning the ticket wagon of Forpagh & Sells Bros. circus was entered and robbed of $80,000. If they catch up with the thief the amount is sufficient to give him a bookkeepers place, or some other good position in the penitentiary.

The board of education of Guilmer has condemned eight or ten school houses in that county because they are not comfortable and will allow no schools taught in them hereafter. However, the board proposes to aid any community in the building of new school houses provided they are built under instructions of the board.

Editor Smith of the Jacksonville (Fla.) Constitution, who was recently charged with fraud in the U. S. court, has been acquitted. In 1901 Mr. Smith sent out circulars offering prizes of bicycles and watches upon receipt of 25 subscriptions at one dollar each. Also offering agents $20 per month compensation. Several parties acted as his agent in Dahlonega but they never received anything. It is said that his circulation was built up to forty thousand. Then he fell through, claiming that he was forced to do so by the press.

Picket only carried one county for congress in the 7th, and that was Haralson.

As a result of injuries received in a football game at Savannah recently, Herbert Kuck, a 14-year-old lad, died from lockjaw.

Wm. Mayor, of Mt. Carroll, Ill., lost his home on an election bet and hung himself. He knew if he didn't that he would never hear the last of it.

As John Wesley stood on the steps waiting for his carriage, he said, "I have lost ten minutes forever."—Ex. What would he have said had he waited as long as some of the newspaper men have to wait for the payment of subscriptions by people who think a newspaper man can live on air, enquires the Marietta Journal.

Editor Shannon, of the Commerce News, killed a hog last week weighing 450 pounds, and invites all hungry editors to come and see him. We are afraid if they don't go that he will eat enough hog's head and fatty bread to cause him to pass in his checks, as it is a rare thing for a country editor to get in such a streak of greasy luck.

In the present congress the republicans have 15 solid delegations and the democrats 12. On a vote by states the republicans would control 20 states, the democrats 15, and one state (Rhode Island) would have no vote. In the new congress the republicans will control 31 states, the democrats 12, and two states (Missouri and Rhode Island) will have no vote, being equally divided.

No insinuation was made week before last, (or it was not intended) that the republicans of Nimble district would not let Representative Shultz vote. We said "that it was so strong, republican speaking, that he came to town to vote." Mr. Shultz had to, for he registered in Shultz district where he taught school and could not vote unless he came to town or went to Wahoo.

If business is dull, that is the time to advertise. Advertising will turn the dullness of today into the brisk trade of tomorrow. If business is good, that is the time to advertise. Surely every merchant wishes business to stay good, and advertising is an assurance of this. No matter how much business a merchant is doing, he should not be averse to seeing it become better. Good advertising will accomplish this. The man who has had energy enough to work up a good trade usually has the ambition to wish to see it grow, and grow. Then he should use more and better advertising.

At first Mr. Ashley brought a charge against Col. Farrow to the effect that he had been away from the Gainesville post office too much. The Colonel met this by showing that it was on account of the sickness and death of his wife. And at the same time postmaster Williams at Macon was going all over the 9th district making addresses in the interest of Mr. Ashley and the republican party. Were any charges preferred against him?

No. But on the other hand his name has been suggested by the Mt. Airy Protectionist as a suitable person to belong to the president's cabinet.

Plans are now being drawn by a Toledo architect for the Chattanooga Park Hotel, and by the time the legal organization of the hotel company can be effected things will be in readiness to begin actual work. The organization of the hotel company will also be perfected in a short time and plans made for the big hotel buildings. Work is now progressing on the fine residence General Warner is building on the car line. Thirty feet on each side of the track is graded from Green street to the old switch. The roadway will be continued as far as the hotel site at once and later extended clear through to the river. The road will likely be macadamized later. This will prove a popular drive-way.—Gainesville Eagle.

Mr. John H. Moore has bought Mr. S. L. Praters town property.

Floyd Anderson, col., was fined $8 and cost this week for shocking the modesty of Lizzie Dick.

Hereafter the military companies of Georgia will not have more than 50 men nor less than 85.

Hon. Clark Howell, editor of the Constitution, will be in the race for governor two years hence.

Booker Washington has given $25 to the erection of a monument in memory of Gen. John B. Gordon.

Miss O. L. Womack, of Montgomery, Ala., was admitted to the bar this week. This is Alabama's first female lawyer.

The dailies report that Fort Arthur is on the verge of surrender. The Japs have proven themselves to be the best of fighters.

Bigamist Allen Gates, who is under arrest in Atlanta, confessed to wife No. 2 that he had another wife. It's strange that some people can't keep a secret.

A man hanged himself in New York the other day because his dinner was late. Other wives having sorry husbands might get rid of them in this way.

A Chinaman in New York voted for President Roosevelt, for which he received his thanks as follows: "The president extends hearty thanks for your congratulation."

Thad Pickett has run for office in both the 9th and 7th. Quite likely he will move on, and by the next election will run somewhere else. He delights in being a candidate. What for we can't see, for he never gets anything.

Our daily exchanges deserve much credit in the quick manner in which they give the war news in the far East illustrated. When a fight occurs they have photographers who send them pictures of the fight by wire the next day.

At Lexington, Ky., the other night three negroes started on an expedition to kill white persons, and opened fire on a party of white men in a saloon, killing Will Moore, yet the militia was called out to protect these scoundrels. It's law but not justice.

The state of Georgia will get in the neighborhood of $130,000 as a result of the decision of the Supreme court of the United States holding that the bonds of the Western of Alabama railway, which are held by the Central of Georgia and the Georgia railroad, are taxable. The comptroller will proceed at once to collect them with seven per cent interest.

The insane asylum is overcrowded again, and numbers of persons have to be kept in county jails on account of this. We have known persons sent to the asylum who we believed ought to have been sent to the penitentiary or hung, but we do not know whether there are such cases as this there now or not. Hope not. If so they ought to receive their just reward so as to make room for deserving persons.

A telegram from New York of the 21st, says: "The Republican Club at the regular meeting to-day unanimously passed a resolution denouncing the disfranchisement of the negroes in the south. At the next meeting a committee will be appointed to discuss the matter with President Roosevelt, who is a member of the club." We will state that if this negro loving club hopes to have any effect upon the south it had just as well disband.

The commissary of the union miners at Mineral Springs, Ala., was blown up by dynamite on Saturday evening and the building and contents sent to the four winds of the earth. A neighboring dwelling was wrecked, and Mrs. Abner and her baby who were on a bed, were badly injured. Mrs. Cheeks, a neighbor, was also hurt. The babe is in a serious condition. The commissary was used by striking miners for carrying their stores of provisions.

Thanksgiving.

Hurrah! when the Thanksgiving time draws near!
When the pumpkin is ripe and brown,
When the gobbling turkey is in the coop
And the cold winds whistle round.

Hurrah! when the pumpkins are brought in
And the harvest time is here,
When the barns are filled and the pigs are killed
And we all sing our good cheer.

The sleigh bells ring-a-ling, ding-ding,
The snow falls thick and fast;
Let us all sing and praise our King,
His blessings, they will last.

God is our King, to Him we'll sing
And bring our praises true;
We'll land Him high up in the sky
With the good we all can do.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy I have suffered for 35 years with severe pains in my head, heart and back, and have tried everything I could get and could not find any relief until I got a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I suffered as long as 12 hours at a time with such severe pains that I could not move, and I would lose my mind. The Anti-Pain Pills gave me relief from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not have to use Morphine any more. I was very much surprised to find that other sufferers may find relief.

BARBER SHOP.

WHEN wanting a nice clean shave, hair cut or shampoo, call on Henry Underwood, First-class barber shop, in every respect, where he will be found ready to wait on you at any time.

Local News.

T. J. Smith & Bro. propose to sell clothing at greatly reduced prices for the next 60 days for cash, corn or fodder. You are invited to call and examine at once.

As I intend leaving Dahlonega, I will sell my entire stock of goods at a greatly reduced price. Ribbons at cost. Good line of shoes at prices that will interest you.

D. O. JOHNSON.

Mr. John Marr, of Porter Springs, has decided to move and locate in Jackson county. The good price of cotton is causing several of our farmers to leave the mountains.

We regret to learn that Capt. R. R. Asbury, of Pleasant Retreat, is very low again. We trust however, that a change will take place and that the life of the Captain will be spared many more years yet.

For town ladies and gentlemen come riding into the city in an ox cart singing a negro song is something that we do not admire. People can "oyor do" the thing sometimes. Remember that every sweet has a bitter.

Out at Mr. Robert Payne's sale last Monday corn brought 57 cents per bushel and fodder $1.35 per hundred. Mr. Will McDonald being the highest bidder. Mr. Payne is going to move off down the country where he can raise much cotton as well as corn.

Yesterday was Thanksgiving Day and we had nothing especially to be thankful for except that we are living. Many sat down and enjoyed their turkey. We had none but made ourselves happy and content by eating pumpkin bread, chicken and chickens.

Sheriff Davis had a race last Sunday too, but he was not running from a dog. He was after John Anderson, (known in this county as White Monstache John), who is wanted in the Superior court of Lumpkin county for selling liquor, but John didn't wish to submit just now and made leg bond.

Mr. J. W. Robinson, of Nacoochee, Ga., who was reported here as being dead some weeks ago, was in Dahlonega last Monday. He had a pretty close call, but we are glad to note that he has recovered and is again a weekly reader of THE NUGGET. Mr. Robinson leaves today for Pine Log, in Barrow county, for the purpose of railroad contracting and any one here wanting a job can get it by going to that place.

Among the visitors here last Sunday, were Col. Sharp, of Atlanta, who is at the head of the Bell Telephone system; Col. Jones, of North Carolina, president of the Cavender's Creek mine, and Judge Slope, Chicago, of the Briar Patch mine. Col. Sharp is also interested in mining here, being a large stockholder in the Jumbo mine. These gentlemen didn't come here on a pleasure trip. They are here on business.

Boyd Anderson, who we mentioned in our last issue, as having beaten up a son of Mr. John Redmond, was captured in White and brought to Dahlonega and turned over to the sheriff of this county last Monday morning. He is charged with an assault with intent to murder, and after Squire Worley fixed his bond at two hundred dollars, the boy soon made it and was set free. The lad he injured is getting along as well as could be expected.

The farmers of this mountain section have an abundant supply of potatoes, cabbage, peas, beans and most everything else to sell, which would bring them a big sum of money if they only had railroad facilities so they could ship this farm produce to a good market. The apples and cabbage are the finest for years and as stated some weeks ago, many of the farmers being unable to sell their fruit, are feeding it to their hogs. This would not occur if we had a railroad.

Renew your subscription at once if you want THE NUGGET continued.

Don't blame the editor for publishing something on you, but blame yourself for acting wrong. Begin at the foundation.

On account of the dry weather our farmers have been unusually late sowing their grain this year, but maybe it will come in all right.

THE NUGGET publishes the news on all alike, let it be either a sinner or saint, and if you are displeased with it, you must learn to act differently.

Mr. John M. Burgess, of Rome, Ga., in renewing his subscription to THE NUGGET, says: "I take two or three other papers but all ways find time to read yours."

The ordinary requests us to state that he desires those needing mile posts and sign boards in any part of the county to come after them, and if there is not enough the deficiency will be supplied.

Kerosene oil has been retailing here since the election at 25 cents a gallon. You are now having to help refund the money used by the oil king for the republican party during the campaign. How do you backsliders of the democratic party like it?

If a subscriber fails to take his NUGGET out of the office regularly let the postmaster notify us and we will strike his name from our list and refund the balance of his subscription. We do not want nor aim for our paper to be lying in the way of any postmaster.

Dr. Jones and Messrs. B. R. and Frank Meaders have returned from the World's Fair. Among the many hundreds of things of interest there, was the Georgia mineral exhibit, which they pronounced. We notice that this exhibit will be brought back to Atlanta and placed permanently in the capitol.

It has been thoroughly demonstrated this year that cotton can be raised anywhere in Lumpkin county. Much more will be planted next year than this, which will bring a large amount of cash into the hands of the farmers that they have heretofore been losing. Keep your eye on Lumpkin and see her grow and prosper.

A. J. Dockery, who resides up on the Blue Ridge, was in town last Saturday. He said that the snow at his house the Sunday before fell to a depth of an inch, and a good deal of it could be seen in his field Saturday morning when he left home. Mr. Dockery informs us that he had green beans and cucumbers for dinner on Tuesday of last week gathered from the field and garden. Just think of a family sitting down eating such fresh vegetables for dinner while the ground was covered with snow. Yet, as stated last week, it does not frost as early on the Blue Ridge mountains as early as it does in the valleys.

On account of the absence of Mayor Baker, being off hunting last Monday, Mayor pro tem Vickery occupied the official chair long enough to dispose of several cases, to-wit: Lester Cavender, Will Ward and Manuel Howell, having been locked up Sunday night, charged with disorderly conduct, the two first named having entered a plea of guilty and were each fined one dollar and cost. Manuel stood trial and was fined $2.50 and cost, the addition $1.50 being made for extra trouble. The next parties were C. W. Davis, S. T. Maddox and J. T. Aycock, three students, who were charged by the marshal with yelling on the streets Sunday night like "possum hunters" out in the mountains many miles from any one's house. Mr. Davis and Maddox were acquitted but Mr. Aycock was given one and cost. There was no harm done except some of the ladies became a little alarmed at the time, thinking that it was a panther, but afterwards the voice became more familiar as they appealed to the mayor the next day to let the matter go unnoticed.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders has returned from a short visit to Atlanta.

WANTED—20 head of first-class mules and horses by J. M. Brooksher, Dahlonega, Ga.

Last Friday Mayor Baker fined Sheriff Davis $5.00 and cost for disorderly conduct on election day.

Getting the initials wrong, made us say that Mr. R. C. Meaders was taking in the World's Fair. It was B. R.

Miss Lizzie Gaddis, a daughter of Mr. Bud Gaddis, of Hightower district, was wedded to John Miller, of Jackson county, last week. Squire Jake Satterfield performed the ceremony.

Under the new law, wild lands unreturned, can be double taxed same as other property and sold by the tax collector. There is a lot of it in Lumpkin county that ought to be looked up.

Attorneys inform us that the Signal is mistaken in its assertion last week about hunters not being allowed "to kill but fifteen birds in one day." The law forbids more than 40 doves being killed in a day by one man but has no limit to other birds.

Within two weeks in Lumpkin county, there has been a number of corn shuckings. At two a fight occurred and at another a wedding, and love words were exchanged at some of the other shuckings. So there is happy times here in the mountains yet.

After an absence of more than forty years from Dahlonega, Mr. Lewis Marlow, a brother to Mr. J. J. Marlow, returned last week on a visit from Illinois, accompanied by his son. This is the first time Mr. Marlow has been back since he took his departure.

Judge Huff has been notified that the following persons have been allowed a pension of $80 each, in Lumpkin county, on the indigent list: Charles Cain, M. V. Barker, Mrs. John Mincey, A. P. Headen. Other applications are under consideration.

On Tuesday of last week they had lively times up in Cane Creek district. Bob Daniels knocked Ben Jones down with a rock. This, of course, caused his brother Frank to rise in his might. Then Joe Moose, not wishing to see Bob crowded, got himself in readiness to fight. But things gradually got quiet with no further injury.

Not long ago "Shotgun" Walker, of this county, having ten children, six boys and four girls, built him a large house in order to have plenty of room. About the time he got it completed and occupied another little boy made its appearance the other day, making eleven children, all living now. If there comes up a war Shotgun will be ready to send a small company to the front.

The last grand jury of this county recommended that persons having gates across the public roads, to put them in good condition, and in addition to this have upping blocks and a hitching post on either side. So far, but few if any, have paid attention to the grand jury. If they do not fix them and the grand jury orders all gates to be removed from across the roads not being in accordance with the instructions of the last body, it may cause them to regret their negligence.

Elsewhere you will find another ticket for aldermen this week. Be sure and go out and register before the book closes first of December so you can vote for some of them.

The way they have got to observing Thanksgiving Day is nothing but a farce. How can a person return thanks with his heels up in the air kicking a ball or out shooting a rabbit?

I will be in Dahlonega one week dating from Monday night, Nov. 28th, at Hall's Villa, prepared to do all sorts of dental work. References, Dr. Glenn and Prof. Barnes, of N. G. A. College. GEO. S. TIGNER, Dentist.

Only recently Hutcheson & Bro., of Lumpkin county, advertised in THE NUGGET that they had saved shingles for sale. A few days ago they closed a deal with a party in Atlanta for a car load to be shipped to that city.

Mr. Ed. McDonald, of this county, came near cribbing as much corn this year as Mr. Henley Wimpy. Ed made 1,147 bushels. All other farmers have produced more corn this year than last. Some twice as much.

Can't the Consolidated Company afford to give us lights longer in the mornings of cloudy days during the winter season? Often they have cut them off at night on account of insufficient power to run them or from accident and no one kicked yet the cost was just the same to those using them.

Mr. W. J. Hightower, who is running a saw mill in this county, frequently receives letters from parties at a distant wanting car loads of lumber, but as it is twenty-five miles to the nearest railroad point he cannot afford to haul it that distance. This is another instance showing how bad we need a railroad.

Mr. H. D. Garley says if the farmers between here and the mountains will plant 100 acres in cotton that he will put up a gin at some convenient point for their benefit. Those who have been raising it above Dahlonega have been compelled to carry it many miles to either Dawson or Hall counties to have it ginned.

Our citizens who have attended the World's Fair and examined the fine displays made by foreign nations, have been convinced that the people of America have been throwing away their money by paying missionaries to go into their countries for the purpose of enlightening them. In many instances their displays at the fair are nicer and better than any sent there from any part of America.

Some of our farmers, who visited Gainesville last week, found that the price of chickens had decreased at least five cents a piece since the previous week. Maybe they have a supply for the preachers at the Methodist Conference at Marietta and they won't be so high until it convenes again next year. A big congregation of Methodist preachers always causes fowls to go up in price. No substitute will answer in this case.

Old Confederate soldiers, having a disposition to do so, get rid of their property, then plead poverty and succeed in getting on the indigent pension roll and draw annually $80 from the state treasury which properly looked at is nothing but a fraud. Two in Lumpkin county who have recently been allowed, did this. In 1908 one of these men who calls himself a preacher, owned four forty acre lots of land, part of it farming land and in cultivation, besides stock, household goods, wagons, etc. The following year he got rid of all he possessed to a relative and at once commenced working for a pension and kept it up till he succeeded in getting on the roll. The other decided his land to one of his daughters, and he too has been allowed, although he still lives on the land and does not have to pay any rent but keeps and uses everything he makes. This shows what some people will do for the sake of a little money.

FOR SALE—A good nice organ cheap. Apply to Miss Eliza Davis, Dahlonega, Ga.

Dr. Thomas, of Blue Ridge, was over this week to see his son, who is attending the N. G. A. College.

The Methodist Conference is now in session at Marietta, causing hundreds of chickens to be beheaded.

Carl, a little son of Mr. Floyd Duckett, had one of his wrists dislocated last Monday while playing football.

We had some rain here first of the week, but not enough to swell the streams and do the mines any good.

On the first Monday in next month Judge Huff will fix the tax on wine in this county which will likely be $50 per annum.

Mr. Allen Calhoun, of this county, received a message from Alabama this week, stating that his daughter, Mrs. Ida Marshall was not expected to live.

Quite a number of our citizens went down to Gainesville yesterday to see the football game between the college boys and the Stone Mountain team.

Don't forget that the registration book of Dahlonega closes next Wednesday. If you want to take a hand in the coming alderman's election go and register.

Next Friday is Arbor Day, which is always observed by the college boys here. It is hoped this time that they will plant some kind of a fruit tree, so as to be of some benefit in after years.

Mr. G. D. Bruce, the photographer, has gone down into Jackson county to look out a location. So if you need any work done you had better call before he moves his gallery from Dahlonega.

Up at Billie Dowday's corn shucking two girls had a fight something about a letter. One struck the other with a ear of corn causing the injured one to pile her antagonist in the shucks.

The football team went down to meet the Stone Mountain eleven yesterday at Gainesville. The students that went along numbered twenty-two. Maj. Tillson and Prof. Davis accompanied them.

As there is conflicting reports about the sensation in Dahlonega last Sunday night we will not say anything until next week as it will likely undergo a legal investigation by that time and will enable us to give facts.

Capt. H. D. Ingersoll's name has been mentioned as a suitable person for postmaster here by some of his friends. We do not know whether he wants the office or not, but are satisfied that he will not meddle until Mr. Tate's term expires.

We are informed that Rev. A. C. Shuler was struck in the eye with an ear of corn the other night by Charlie Crisson at Mr. Head's corn shucking. Mr. Shuler was sitting next to Charlie's sweetheart is said to be the cause.

At H. D. Garley's you will find large Florida oranges at 80 cents per dozen. Lemons, 20. Fresh cream cheese, 15 cents per pound. Chocolate candy, 20. Apples, cabbage, peas, beans and potatoes. A fine line of fancy candy will be in next week.

What about those fellows up in Hightower district who were led to believe that the pieces of mica in the mine in which Ashley was interested would increase to be as large as big tables if they would turn their backs on their party and vote for him? What fools we poor mortals be.

The person in Dahlonega who furnishes the liquor houses a list of names causes much embarrassment when a right good old church or temperance member opens his mail and receives in the presence of others a price list of Christmas liquor with pictures of bottles and jugs. Some times a young man receives one in the presence of his sweetheart, causing him to almost faint.

Wahoo Items.

The people are all rejoicing and having a good time down here. Candy drawings, corn shuckings and hog killing time are coming on and the outlook for plenty of corn juice for Christmas makes every thing lively.

Four of the Dahlonega boys, C. R. Bennett, F. C. and E. J. Cavender and J. R. Pierce came through the country Sunday going to see the women. They say they had one more time.

Mr. J. L. Pierce and Dr. Cavender have bought them a wheat drill and are sowing wheat to have biscuit for next year. They say the seed saved in sowing will soon pay for the drill.

A Prize Offered Farmers.

The Agricultural Department of the N. G. A. College offers a cash prize of $1.50 to the farmer of Lumpkin county for the best ten years of corn grown this year.

1. The corn must be grown by the person entering the contest, or upon his farm.
 2. Samples must be presented to THE NUGGET office in small bags not later than 6 o'clock, p. m., of December. Mr. Townsend will receive the corn, and place a number in each bag and the number will correspond to the number of each person entering the contest.
- The Professor of Agriculture will judge the corn and then name of person presenting it will not be known to him.

Mining Notes.

Sparks and Garretts ore down at the Barlow proved to be worth $8 a ton.

As soon as logs can be obtained work will commence on the Findley dam. An effort is being made to contract them now.

Down at the Singleton every thing is moving along as usual. Superintendent Campbell informs us that the mine is paying.

The blowing of the whistle down at the Hand Wednesday morning after the rain made us think of the boom here four years ago.

Mr. W. J. Hightower, who has the contract of building the tubing for the Briar Patch Co., has all the material out and ready to go to constructing it at once.

Fifteen stamps were kept running on one shift at the Lockhart mine last week. There is plenty of ore but it is hard and the progress of obtaining it by hand drilling is slow but it is hoped that they will soon have power enough to run an air drill.

While shutting down the other day at the Gorge some part of the rigging of one of the wheels was broke which renders them unable to run but one wheel until the repairs are made, but it has not stopped the Crown Mountain plant. Since last starting up it has only been running one shaft. Now the pump is run during the day and the mill at night, making it more expensive, is all.

NOTICE.

If you owe me anything and want to save cost you had better come and arrange it. I need the money and am going to put out all my notes and accounts for collection that are not arranged at once. Respectfully,

M. J. WILLIAMS.
